

5 MIGs Shot Down in Fight, Taipei Claims

Nationalist Jets
Also Fight Torpedo Boats Near Quemoy

London —(AP)—Red China charged that U.S. warships six times penetrated Chinese territorial waters today and demanded a halt to these "serious armed provocations."

A Chinese foreign ministry spokesman, quoted by Peiping radio, said U.S. warships provocatively stationed themselves in the vicinity of communist territorial waters on Sept. 15, Sept. 16 and yesterday.

Taipei —(AP)—Chinese nationalist Sabre jets fought a battle with communist Chinese MIGs and attacked red torpedo boats today in the Quemoy area, the nationalist defense ministry announced.

The government-owned Central Daily News later issued an extra edition claiming five MIGs were shot down in today's fight.

The nationalist spokesman said the air battle took place as a nationalist convoy was returning to base from delivering supplies to besieged Quemoy. Sabre jets swooped down on four communist torpedo boats which were attacking the ship convoy, and possibly one torpedo boat was sunk.

Clash Sept. 8
The last encounter with MIGs took place Sept. 8, when the nationalists claimed their jet fighters shot down seven red planes and damaged two more near the mainland seaport of Swatow.

Meantime, the American command on Formosa has indicated that U.S. jets will join in fighting off any communist warplanes that try to prevent supply drops to the offshore islands.

So far the Chinese communists have made no attempt to attack nationalist C46 cargo planes parachuting supplies to Little Quemoy island.

Two more drops were made without incident yesterday, the nationalist defense ministry said.

Fly Over Strait
American fighters flew high over the Formosa strait off Little Quemoy while the drops were made, ready to swoop down on any communist MIG fighters that might attack the cargo planes, a U.S. spokesman said.

The U.S. jets did not fly directly over the outpost islands in order to "avoid provocative action," the spokesman by the United States and Britain were to begin.

Hits Revenue Man Who Took His Pay For Overdue Levy

Detroit —(AP)—A husky auto worker punched an internal revenue agent in the face yesterday. He said he was mad because the federal government was taking his paychecks for overdue taxes.

Archie Boudah, of suburban Wyandotte, was charged with assault before U. S. District Judge Ralph Freeman.

"I lost my head," said Boudah, father of seven. "But I needed the pay checks to feed my children."

Officers said Boudah slugged Agent Matthew Marcus when the officer refused to return the pay checks. Marcus was bruised on the face and had a swollen cheek.

Boudah had been assessed $2,148 in unpaid taxes on moonshine whisky from a still federal agents found in his home last year. Boudah failed to pay the tax in $5 weekly installments as arranged, revenue agents said.

Even months ago the government took over a $16.81 pay check to Boudah. Four days ago a second check for $95.18 was seized.

That, said Boudah, was when he got mad.

Threatens to Resume Tests

Russia Wants U. S.
And Britain to Act Immediately

London —(AP)—The Soviet Union renewed today its threats to end a self-imposed ban on nuclear weapons tests unless the United States and Britain stop their tests immediately.

The two western powers have announced a halt to tests for one year, beginning Oct. 31 when they open talks with the Soviet Union on a world-wide nuclear explosion ban, supply drops to the offshore islands.

Moscow radio did not mention this western suspension. But it indicated the Kremlin go planes parachuting supplies to Little Quemoy island.

"If Britain and the U.S.A. cannot wait until Oct. 31, weapons by means of test explosions, the Soviet Union also probably will be forced in the final analysis to resume tests," the English-language broadcast said.

"Western powers are simply forcing the Soviet Union to take back" its own test suspension announced last March 31, the radio added. That suspension came shortly after Russia concluded an extensive series of nuclear tests, and just before Britain were to begin.

He left a little later than usual, taking his station wagon to catch another train to New York.

Nothing more was heard from him until yesterday, when his briefcase was found aboard the third coach of a Jersey Central railroad train that plunged into Newark bay Monday.

His station wagon was traced, and the name of James Adams, 45, was added to the list of those missing and presumed dead in the train wreck.

Mrs. Adams died in the hospital last night of cancer.

Her husband, editor-manager of the New York Purchasing Review, would leave home every morning to catch a train so that he could be in his office by 9 a.m.

Ford Settlement Expected To Set Pattern for Industry

Strike Continues in Some Plants Due to Local Problems

Detroit —(AP)—The United Auto Workers, who reached contract agreement with Ford yesterday, turned their attention to General Motors today with a warning that "the time has come for them to quit playing games."

GM—biggest of the auto makers—stood out as the No. 1 target of the UAW's unfinished contract talks. The UAW resumed talks with Chrysler, also, but union officials made it plain they would concentrate on GM.

GM officials declined comment on the Ford-UAW pact which included the first severance pay plan worked out by the big three auto firms—Ford, Chrysler and GM.

Ford and the UAW announced a settlement of their differences yesterday several hours after some 98,000 workers walked off their jobs in Ford plants across the nation. The strike remained in effect at some plants, pending agreement on local problems.

With the Ford contract tucked in his pocket, UAW president Walter Reuther said he will now turn his attention to General Motors and Chrysler. He undoubtedly will ask for similar contract gains from the two firms.

Terms of the Ford pact, which must still be ratified and approved by UAW locals, bring an approximate 10-cent hourly pay boost for all workers, plus extra fringe benefits. The new average hourly rate is estimated at about $2.52.

Effects Agreements
Reuther indicated he was optimistic over the chances of a settlement with the other two members of the industry's Big Three, but he made it clear the union would not hesitate to set a strike deadline if such action becomes necessary.

Talks at GM and Chrysler were resumed today. A note of optimism came also from GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton, who commented on the Ford settlement.

"I would like to congratulate both parties for arriving at an accord. I know it took a lot of hard work. I see no reason why with hard work and sincerity of purpose around the bargaining table that at late both parties for arriving at an accord."

Cuban Rebels Claim Gains

Radio Reports Six Columns Deep in Camaguey Province

Havana —(AP)—Rebel leader Fidel Castro's radio claimed today six columns of his fighters had penetrated deeply into Camaguey province and were "harassing the army of the dictatorship."

Army headquarters in Havana announced 26 rebels were killed and 4 government soldiers wounded in a skirmish along the border of Camaguey and easternmost Oriente province.

The army's communique appeared to confirm in part a rebel announcement that the 22-month-old rebellion, long centered in Oriente, was being extended into neighboring Camaguey.

Rebels said the western march would engulf all of Cuba's six provinces. Their broadcast declared government forces were powerless to halt the advance. Raul Chibas, treasurer general for the revolutionary movement broadcasting from Castro's mountain headquarters in Oriente, claimed revolt against President Batista was rising swiftly in central Las Villas and western Pinar del Rio.

"Las Villas has been converted into a great focus of rebellion," he said. "In Pinar del Rio rebel guerrillas have seized garrisons of the dictatorship and have cut communications. The revolution is multiplying its force. Nothing and nobody can halt the swift push of the revolution."

Hopes Talks in Warsaw Will End Crisis but Is Set to Take Issue to UN

United Nations, N. Y. —(AP)—Secretary of State Dulles declared today that the Chinese communist campaign against Formosa "poses a grave threat, with ominous implications." He called for a prompt cease-fire.

Dulles made his comment in a major policy address before the U.N. General assembly as that 81-nation body opened general debate in its thirteenth regular session.

He expressed hope the talks now in progress in Warsaw between U. S. and Chinese communist ambassadors would end the current crisis, but reserved the right to bring the problem to the U.N. if the talks appeared headed for failure.

Dulles charged the Chinese communist regime is now attempting to extend its authority to the offshore islands "by the use of naked force."

"The issue is thus a simple one: Armed conquest." He said the current actions of the Peiping government demonstrates again that red China is not "peace-loving"—a phrase used in the U.N. charter in defining requirements for membership in the world organization.

Hopes for Accord
Dulles spoke a few hours before the assembly's powerful steering committee was to consider whether the U.N. should debate the question of seating red China. The committee was expected to reject an Indian proposal for such a debate.

Referring to the Warsaw talks, Dulles said: "We seek a prompt cease-fire and equitable conditions which will eliminate provocations and leave for peaceful resolution the different claims and counterclaims that are involved."

"If it seems that the bilateral talks between ambassadors are not going to succeed, the United States reserves the right to bring this matter to the United Nations."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was expected to speak at the assembly's afternoon session.

On other world problems Dulles made these points: Hungary and Germany — The United Nations cannot let itself be discouraged by the refusal of the Soviet Union to end the "brutal suppression of the Hungarian people" and by its refusal to help reunify Germany.

Middle East — The United States is somewhat, but not wholly reassured by the recent course of events in the Middle East. It is going ahead, however, with the withdrawal of another contingent of U.S. forces from Lebanon. Further, the United States will discuss with the new government of

Roberts Winner In Rhode Island

Providence, R.I. —(AP)—Gov. Dennis J. Roberts has won nomination for his fifth term as governor in the Rhode Island Democratic primary.

He defeated his only opposer, Lt. Gov. Armand Cote, polling 52,975 votes yesterday to Cote's 41,553. It was one of the most bitterly contested primaries in the state's history.

All other candidates endorsed for statewide office by the party were nominated.

U.S. Sen. John O. Pastore and the state's two Democratic congressmen were unopposed for renomination.

The Republicans hold their primary Sept. 25 but have no contests for statewide offices.

Hoffa Denies He Threatened Rival

Washington —(AP)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa denied heatedly today that he had threatened to have Sol Lipman, the lawyer for a rival union, slain.

"I did not," Hoffa snapped in reply to a question by Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the senate rackets investigating committee.

The committee "has evidence to the contrary," Kennedy declared.

Kennedy did not explain the basis for his question, nor say when or where he heard the threat had been voiced against Lipman, counsel to the Retail Clerks union. Aides said Lipman was not in the hearing room.

The murder threat allegation was tossed into the hearing when Hoffa described a stormy meeting with Lipman in which, Hoffa said he told Lipman the clerks union was making a mistake in a break with the teamsters.

Approved were a border of poison ivy, opium poppies on the patio and a front yard of marijuana.

Chop Down Trees on Statehouse Lawn and Awaken 80 Miles Away

Columbus —(AP)—Now, Mom, go easy on that spanking. Boys will be boys, you know.

No one is condoning what they did, but even the governor gave his official forgiveness after Robert and Henry Litteral, 11 and 9, tried to chop down three trees on the statehouse lawn here.

Not that it ended there. Because after they got home and found out they were in line for a spanking from their mother, Mrs. James Litteral, the two youngsters fled the house and finally went to sleep in a parked truck.

Unfortunately it didn't stay parked long enough. When the boys woke up, they found themselves in Lucasville, some 80 miles south of here near Portsmouth.

That was yesterday morning, a day after their tree-chopping adventure began. They knew it was Lucasville, because they had lived in Portsmouth until a month ago when they moved to Columbus.

Given Immunity
Well, they finally hitchhiked back home, arriving late last night, and so tired that they were in bed within an hour after they walked through the door.

Before retiring, however, Robert told his mother why they were away:

"We were scared when we found out we had chopped state property. We didn't want to go to the penitentiary."

U.S., Chinese Envoys Confer on Formosa

Diplomats Leave Warsaw Talks Without Comment; Peiping Radio Broadcasts Cease Fire Refusal

BY STANLEY JOHNSON

Warsaw, Poland —(U)— U.S. and Chinese communist ambassadors met for two hours today to continue probing their countries' plans in the flaming Formosa strait.

The two diplomats left their conference as tight-lipped as they had arrived, but the unusual length of their first two sessions created the impression the negotiators were getting down to brass tacks. They plan to meet again Sunday.

Shortly before U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Wang Ping-nan, the red Chinese ambassador, conferred for the second time on easing Far East tension, Peiping radio broadcast a refusal to agree to a ceasefire in the offshore islands as long as the talks go on.

"There is no question of a cease-fire since China and the United States are not at war," said an article in the official Peiping Peoples daily broadcast by the communist radio.

11-Year-Struggle

"The Chinese people have waged a struggle to liberate the whole of their territories for the last 11 years. The present military action of the Chinese people against the Chiang Kai-shek troops entrenched in Quemoy is a continuation of that struggle and has nothing to do with world tension."

Referring to President Eisenhower's speech urging a peaceful settlement in the area, the article accused Washington of trying to lay down a "cease-fire snare" to lure Peiping into tacit acceptance of American "occupation" of Formosa.

It demanded that the United States stop its military deployments in the area.

Want Quick Results

The United States was understood to be standing firm against allowing the ambassadorial talks to drag out indefinitely like the earlier dealings with the red Chinese in Geneva which went through 73 sessions in over two years.

Positive or negative results were expected within two weeks from these talks, which are a continuation of the Geneva meetings.

The United States was understood to be urging red China to renounce force for political ends in the Formosa area. Communist China's position is that any force against Quemoy or Formosa itself is an internal matter and no concern of the United States. But the reds insist that the presence of U.S. armed strength in the area constitutes the use of force.

Beam is also trying to clear away the fog of Peiping's propaganda and find out exactly what the communists are aiming for in Quemoy and Formosa and what they expect from the United States.

'Wife' of Best Selling Author Not Married

Monterey, Calif. —(U)— Eleanor McPartland, wife of a best selling author and Monterey's mother of the year 1956, said last night she was unwed — and disappeared quietly with her five children.

Ida McPartland, who lives 125 miles away McPartland in Mill Valley with her 10-year-old son Donald, first broke the news of John McPartland's two families. She said that in fairness to Donald she wanted it known that she, and not Eleanor, is the widow of the man who wrote "No Down Payment" and a dozen paperback novels.

McPartland, 47, died of a heart attack Sunday night and Eleanor was listed as his widow. But Ida said she was married to the writer in Tyler, Texas, in September, 1943 and bore him Donald.

Eleanor had been received here as McPartland's wife for a decade. She bore him five children, aged 4, 6, 7, 9 and 10.

"I confirm Ida's story," she said after Ida told newspapermen she is the real widow. "Other than that, I have no comment." Later, she said she was leaving with the children to avoid further publicity. She did.

Ida said the easy-going author had lived with both her and Eleanor over the years and each woman knew of his relations with the other. She explained she never legally separated from him because he kept promising to give up Eleanor and return to her and Donald.

Middle East Nations May Approve Plan

Report Agreement On United Nations Peace Delegates

United Nations, N. Y. —(U)—

The United Arab Republic, Jordan and Lebanon are reported to have agreed to a plan for U. N. peace representatives in their countries.

Sources said last night the three nations gave their consent to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on his recent Middle Eastern trip.

Hammarskjold is to report to the General assembly by Sept. 30 on his progress toward insuring peace in the troubled area and facilitating withdrawal of U. S. troops from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan. U. N. officials declined to comment on his progress.

Hammarskjold was believed to have advocated a plan for what was called a U. N. presence in the three countries to watch for foreign interference. Both the outgoing government of Lebanon and King Hussein of Jordan have accused President Nasser's United Arab Republic of trying to overthrow them.

Hammarskjold's plan. Although details were not public, the sources indicated the three countries had accepted a form of Hammarskjold's plan. Some diplomats said a roving U. N. ambassador would be named with aides in each country. Others said a peace committee might be established.

In either case, the sources said, Nasser refuses to accept a U. N. representative in Cairo but would permit one in the U. A. R.'s provincial capital of Syria, Damascus. Similar reports came from Cairo before Hammarskjold returned to New York last Saturday.

Some U. S. troops already have been withdrawn from Lebanon but Hussein has given no indication of willingness to trade a U. N. diplomat for the protection of 4,000 British troops.

In a dispatch from Washington, the New York Times said the United States presently will make available to the U. A. R. about $5 million in foreign aid pledged in 1953.

The funds were frozen when Nasser nationalized the Suez canal in 1956. The Eisenhower administration decided to release them in hope of better relations with the U. A. R. and a less hostile attitude by Nasser toward the United States, the Times said.

'Everyone a Soldier' Move Spreads in Red China

BY KAY TATEISHI

Tokyo —(U)— The "Everyone a Soldier" movement is spreading throughout Communist China "as the people get more and more angry over U. S. provocations," Peiping radio reports.

Communist Chinese broadcasts say millions have enlisted in militia units to beat back an invasion. They include "workers, peasants, demobilized army men, students, doctors, government workers, ship assistants, women workers, fishermen and other people of all walks of life."

Peiping radio said the "militia men are making strenuous efforts to master military skills while speeding up production. They say: 'If the American aggressors dare to launch a war, we will drive them into the sea.'"

Whipping up the "Hate America" campaign, the radio emphasizes that Red China may be invaded at any minute.

One broadcast today quoted a truck driver, Su

ICC Opens Inquiry Into Kettle Moraine Commuter Train Wreck

Toll of Known Dead Rises to 27; Another 19 Still Reported Missing

New York —(U)— The Interstate Commerce Commission today opens an inquiry into the wreck of a Jersey Central commuter train which hurtled into Newark bay through an open drawbridge Monday.

The ICC investigator follows on the heels of a probe by Hudson county officials to determine whether human or mechanical failure caused the disaster.

The toll of known dead rose to 27 yesterday. Another 19 persons have been reported missing; if all are confirmed as dead the toll would rise to 46.

The 5-coach train and two diesel locomotives — one a deadhead — pounded past warning lights and ploughed through a derailling device before the engines and two cars crashed into the water. A third coach dangled from the bridge for some minutes, then dropped into the bay. The last two coaches remained on the trestle tracks.

The lead locomotive was raised from the water last night. No bodies were found in the cab.

Hudson County Prosecutor Lawrence A. Whipple, after questioning witnesses yesterday at Bayonne, N.J., police headquarters, said the train was going at "an abnormal rate of speed" as far back as a warning signal 2,000 feet from the open draw.

Whipple's office impounded the speed indicator tape of the lead locomotive. The tape was too wet and dirty to read immediately.

Heart Attack

A preliminary autopsy on the dead engineer, Lloyd Wilburn of Red Bank, N.J., indicated that a heart attack contributed to his death. The engineer's fireman, Peter Andrew of Jersey City, is among the missing.

Commenting on the medical findings concerning Wilburn, Whipple said:

"I think the engineer was stricken at the home device (the red light 2,000 feet from the draw). If he had all his normal faculties he would have slowed the train down." Whipple said the normal speed at the time should have been 15 to 20 miles an hour. A railroad spokesman said the allowable bridge speed with a clear track is 45 m.p.h., but is half that with caution lights showing.

Joseph Halliday, the Elizabeth port signalman, told Whipple the train was going about 30 miles an hour when it passed him. Halliday said that is about the normal speed for that section.

Run Over by Auto, Freight Engine, Youth Escapes With Bruises

East St. Louis, Ill. —(U)— Seventeen-year-old Fred Cowell of East St. Louis spent a few harrowing minutes last night when his car and a freight engine ran over him. He escaped with cuts and bruises.

Fred was following a slow moving truck across multiple railroad tracks when he noticed the engine bearing down. He jumped out and ran but got only a few feet away before the engine hit the car, dragged it along and rolled it over him. Then Cowell fell between the tracks and most of the engine also ran over him.

The locomotive ground to a stop and Cowell squirmed free.

He was treated at a hospital and released.

National Inspection Unit Favors Stepping Up Development

Stevens Point —(U)— The development of Wisconsin's Kettle Moraine forest should be stepped up and the project completed as soon as possible, officials of the national park service concluded after a 3-day tour Wednesday.

The inspection that took the party through the state's many miles of unique glacial moraines was staged so federal officials might determine whether the area could qualify as a national park. The trip ends Friday.

The proposed national park includes a 500-mile strip that meanders through the state, following the end moraines or glacial deposits left by the Cary ice sheet of the Wisconsin glacial period thousands of years ago. Near this area, the park route would traverse parts of Shawano, Waupaca, Waushara, Fond du Lac, Manitowish and Sheboygan counties.

Daniel J. Tobin, Philadelphia, director of the park region including Wisconsin, said:

"We make no forecasts of what the results of this study might be. But regardless of what might happen to this proposal, it will be very wise of the state to complete the Kettle Moraine forest as conceived many years ago."

Leo J. Diederich, chief of the national park system, offered a bit of encouragement when he noted the federal park system does not now include "an example of continental ice action" such as is found in the Kettle Moraine.

The officials noted a serious shortage of camping and family outing facilities, especially in the popular lakeshore and southern sections of Wisconsin, and encouraged acquisition of land for the present park.

Monday the party flew over the entire 500 miles of the park. Tuesday they made an intensive inspection of the partly developed Kettle Moraine State forest extending from Greenbush in Sheboygan county through Fond du Lac, Washington and Jefferson counties to Whitewater lake in Walworth county.

Three More Virginia Schools Face Possible Orders to Shut Down

Little Rock Highs Move Step Closer to Private Status

By the Associated Press

Little Rock High schools were a step closer to a test of the Arkansas private school plan today while three more Virginia schools faced possible closing orders.

In Norfolk, Federal Judge Walter E. Hoffman said he would rule shortly on a request that he knock down a state court injunction barring the city's school board from assigning pupils.

Racial incidents were reported at the New Orleans branch of Louisiana State university. Dean Homer L. Mitt said a Negro student had been the object of jeers and catcalls and that there had been incidents of bottle throwing and name calling. The branch of LSU opened Friday. Sixty Negroes are enrolled among the student body of about 1,500.

Form Corporation

Six citizens formed the "Little Rock Private School corporation" yesterday in a move taken with the prior knowledge of Gov. Orval E. Faubus who closed the schools after the supreme court ordered integration to proceed at Central High.

The group's purpose was to operate private schools by lease or other means, according to corporation papers signed by a circuit court judge.

A law passed by the Arkansas legislature last month authorized the state to provide funds for the tuition of a pupil who entered a private school in a district where the public schools were closed.

There was no immediate indication when an attempt would be made to try out the private school plan, presumably on a segregated basis. Legal authorities said in all probability such a move would be challenged in the courts.

Oops! Virginia Democrats Offer Aid to Republican

Arlington, Va. —(U)— There are some red faces among Virginia Young Democrats. They mistakenly endorsed a Republican representative — and called him a senator to boot.

Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (R-Va.) gleefully told yesterday of receiving a letter from Marvin M. Murchison, Jr., president of the Young Democratic clubs of Virginia. The letter pledged Murchison's personal support and that of the clubs to "Senator Broyhill" in November.

Apprised of the boner, Democratic spokesmen said Broyhill's name apparently had been confused with that of Joseph H. Freehill, the Democrat opposing him in November.

Replying to Murchison, Broyhill noted he is a representative — not a senator. "I hope that you will caution your membership against this possible confusion in their work toward my reelection."

Murchison was not available for comment. He had departed on a trip to Florida.

Special Referendum

Faubus has scheduled a special city referendum on the integration question for Sept. 27.

Neither the justice department in Washington nor Faubus had any comment on the private school plan. But Mrs. L. C. Bates, Arkansas, president of the NAACP, said that "when the schools open, be it under public or private guidance, Negro children will be there."

Two schools at Charlottesville, Va., probably will not open on schedule Monday. Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff of the 4th U. S. circuit court at Baltimore refused to interfere with a lower court order to admit Negroes to the two institutions.

In another Virginia case, District Judge Albert V. Bryan ordered four Negroes admitted to a junior high in Arlington next January but rejected applications of 28 other Negroes for admittance to other white schools.

Drop Speeding Charge After Father's Story

Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe has dismissed a speeding charge when a father told the court he was hurrying to the aid of his son.

Carlton G. Jennerjohn, 37, route 2, Hortonville, was arrested by the state patrol Aug. 20 on Highway 45 near Hortonville for driving 70 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone. He didn't tell the arresting officer he was hurrying to aid his son, who had broken a leg.

Donald W. MacDonald, 25, Green Bay, was fined $10 for driving 66 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone. His father, W. H. MacDonald, district manager for Wisconsin Public Service corporation, wrote Judge Schmieghe a letter citing the courtesy extended his son by state police during routine handling of the case.

Speeders Listed

Other speeders in court, each charged three points against their driving records, unless otherwise noted, were:

Lawrence R. Lenz, 32, Columbus, $10; Joseph D. Jenkins, 42, Northridge, Calif., $20; Robert F. Sasse, 30, 1834 N. Alvin street, $10; Thomas C. Guyette, 45, route 1, New London, $25 and six points for 57 in a 35-mile zone; Harold P. Feller, 40, 171 Wisconsin avenue, Kaukauna, $15 and six points for 51 in a 25-mile zone in Appleton; Dennis A. Kloes, 17, 332 N. Pine street, Kimberly, $13.95 forfeited, and John T. Krogh, 49, 1225 W. Spencer street, $10.

Frank A. Oskey, 806 W. Frances street, denied charges of a 500-pound axle overload and failing to go to a scale when told by a state officer. He posted bonds of $193.95 and $53.95 for trial Oct. 24.

Other traffic charges included:

Murphy Construction company, route 1, Black Creek, was fined $408.40 for a 5,120-pound formula overload and $20 for a 3,790-pound license overload.

Illegal Passing

The Rev. Melvin H. Macoskie, 29, Milwaukee, forfeited an $18.95 bond; Frank J. Mueller, 71, Calumet City, Ill., was fined $25, and Henry Neversden, 22, Birnamwood, forfeited a $28.95 bond, all for illegal passing. All were charged four points each.

Max Kerman, 46, Chicago, was fined $25 and charged three points for failing to yield the right-of-way. A charge of no driver's license was dismissed. William F. Kruger, 62, route 2, Shawano, also was fined $25 and charged three points for failing to yield the right-of-way.

George J. Wehner, 52, Rhinelander, was fined $50 for illegally driving a 3 - vehicle combination. State police said Wehner was driving a semi-trailer tractor pulling a semi-trailer and a disabled semi-trailer tractor with 12 cars lined up behind him on Highway 45.

Arne J. Leander, 18, Chicago, was fined $10 for an illegal muffler.

Vernon R. Spence, 43, route 4, Appleton, was given two weeks to prove the registration on his car has not expired.

Thomas J. McGowan, 49, 2215 W. Spencer road, was fined a total of $30 on three separate counts of operating a vehicle without a license on Nov. 27, Feb. 14 and March 23.

Ronald F. Gerrits, 19, route 1, Kaukauna, was fined $5 for no registration.

26 Families Benefit From Route Extension

Truck mail delivery has been extended to 26 families on the southeast side of Appleton. Postmaster Francis Summich reports.

Effective Monday, curbside service began for 24 families between 400 and 1099 S. Christine street and for two families on Forest street.

Study Ordered Of Public Works Inspector Post

A public works inspector, long sought by some city officials, will be the subject of serious study between now and November budgetmaking time.

The board of public works Tuesday authorized Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski to make the study and report salary outlook to the budget committee.

The inspector would keep records to show all work done and work not done properly by holders of city contracts. He should be an engineer, it was said, so in the off-season he could work in the engineering department.

This season the city had a full-time curb and gutter inspector and, as always, engineering department personnel conducted spot checks and final inspections after work is done.

Slug Jailer With Soap Blackjack

El Paso, Texas — Cleanliness may take a backseat to safety in the El Paso jail, at least for a time. A prisoner slugged a guard with a blackjack made from a bar of soap and a sock, and eight men took one floor of the jail briefly before being subdued.

X-Ray Bus To Come Here

State Board Sends Unit to Appleton For Month Stand

The state board of health mobile X-ray will be in Appleton for a month-long stand beginning Oct. 1 under the auspices of the Visiting Nurse association. The bus comes to this area about once every three years.

The x-rays show lung conditions and the size and shape of the heart. All reports will be sent to the individuals four to six weeks after the x-rays are given.

The Constitution — An Amazing Document

This is the week set aside to honor the Constitution of the United States, one of the most amazing documents in the history of the world and just as controversial today in its interpretation as it was when conceived.

The Constitution was written with two primary purposes in mind; first, to strengthen the federal government to repair the damages that resulted from the vague Articles of Confederation; and second, to put down in print the protections of the people which government, that greatest of all tyrants, could not invade. It is when the people or the courts forget these purposes that conflict begins.

It is a tribute, both to the geniuses who created the Constitution, and to the people of the country, that it has lasted with very few changes for almost 170 years and that it has worked. Through its use and interpretations and very few amendments, there has been devised a system of constitutional democracy which stands as the principal challenge to the forces of totalitarianism in the world today.

Interpretations of the Contitution helped us forge a strong federal government, prevent disunion through secession (although it took a war to enforce it) and progress from an economic individuality which bordered on arrogant exploitation of working people to today's basically free economic system which nevertheless recognizes its social responsibilities. It is a bulwark today against the concept that the state is almighty, and likewise against complete democracy which is nothing better than mob rule.

It is very likely that the type of government based on our Constitution is not the cure-all for the political ills of all peoples. And yet, as Constitutional Scholars Alfred Kelly and Winfred Harbison, reason:

Constitutionalism is still an ideal possessed of immense vitality in our country. . . In spite of the new concern for security, our courts remain devoted to personal liberty and the Bill of Rights. . . It is possible to defend constitutional democracy against Soviet totalitarianism in absolute moralistic terms. If one accepts as true certain basic propositions about the nature and destiny of man which are a fundamental part of the magnificent heritage of western culture, then it is relatively easy to show logically that constitutional democracy has a necessary and coherent relationship to that faith. . . . Lincoln and Jefferson certainly would have had it so.

Yet the challenge of communism means that constitutional democracy must succeed practically as well. Lord Thomas Macaulay wrote depreciatingly in 1857 that "your Constitution is all sail and no anchor . . . Either some Caesar or Napoleon will seize the reins of government with a strong hand; or your republic will be fearfully plundered and laid waste by barbarians in the Twentieth century . . ."

But there were Americans who saw ways to avoid such catastrophe. Daniel Webster in 1830 said that "the people have preserved this, their own chosen Constitution . . . and have seen their happiness, prosperity, and renown, grow with its growth, and strengthen with its strength . . . Overthrown by direct assault it cannot be; evaded, undermined, nullified, it will not be, if we, and those who shall succeed us here, as agents and representatives of the people, shall conscientiously and vigilantly discharge the two great branches of our public trust — faithfully to preserve and wisely to administer it."

And Herbert Hoover understood the inroads of fascism and communism. "Liberty comes alone and lives alone where the hard-won rights of men are held inalienable, where governments themselves may not infringe, where governments are indeed but the mechanisms to protect and sustain these principles."

Each generation will interpret different sections of the Constitution in a different manner because the needs and dangers of each generation differ. But the basic belief that underlies the Constitution — that our government exists to serve and protect the people of the United States — must eternally be preserved.

Injustice in Judicial Salaries

As a part of the Wisconsin plan to keep the political activities of its judges at a minimum, Supreme Court justices are elected for 10-year terms and the circuit judges for six years. Most other public offices are filled every two years.

There are some decided advantages for the judges in the longer terms. They are free to pursue their work on the bench for long periods with little thought of future elections. Also, the infrequent elections hold down the expense of campaigning.

But there is a great disadvantage to the long terms under the constitutional provision which freezes the salaries at the election time level. Everyone who has been employed for six years or more knows that the pay he drew six years ago would be wholly inadequate today. In fact the man in industry who has not had an increase in salary in six years must be rare. But we expect circuit judges to serve six years without a change in salary, and Supreme Court justices to go for 10 years without an increase in compensation.

Thus when the Wisconsin circuit judges suggest that a way should be found to increase the compensation of judges during their longer terms when warranted, there can be little doubt that they have a good case. In these days of spiraling prices their claim is indisputable. The judges suggest that an exception might be made in their case since judges do not enact legislation under which salaries can be increased.

We think a better and more practical claim can be made on the basis of fair play and the great need to keep competent men on the bench. Recently Justice E. Harold Hallows, the newest member of the Wisconsin Supreme Court and as such the highest paid, was asked, "What is the salary of a justice?" He replied:

This depends on when he became a justice. At the present time there are three salaries: One justice receives $12,000; four receive $14,000 and two receive $17,500. This inequality is the result of a provision in the Wisconsin Constitution which prohibits the increase or decrease of a state officer's salary during his term of office. . . . Unfortunately it has the effect of having the justice with the least experience receiving the highest salary.

The fact is that the legislature has increased the salaries of Supreme Court justices twice within the terms of the oldest members of the court. The increases have gone to those elected after the increases were voted, while the older members have continued to receive the lower salaries and will continue to do so until their long terms expire and they are reelected.

It is obviously a matter that needs correction. If the judges will just suggest a way to do it, the people should see the sense of their claim and support any change required.

pressed new auto market, the price of new cars will be higher next year. And Reuther presses for more pay, more fringe benefits, and easier work.

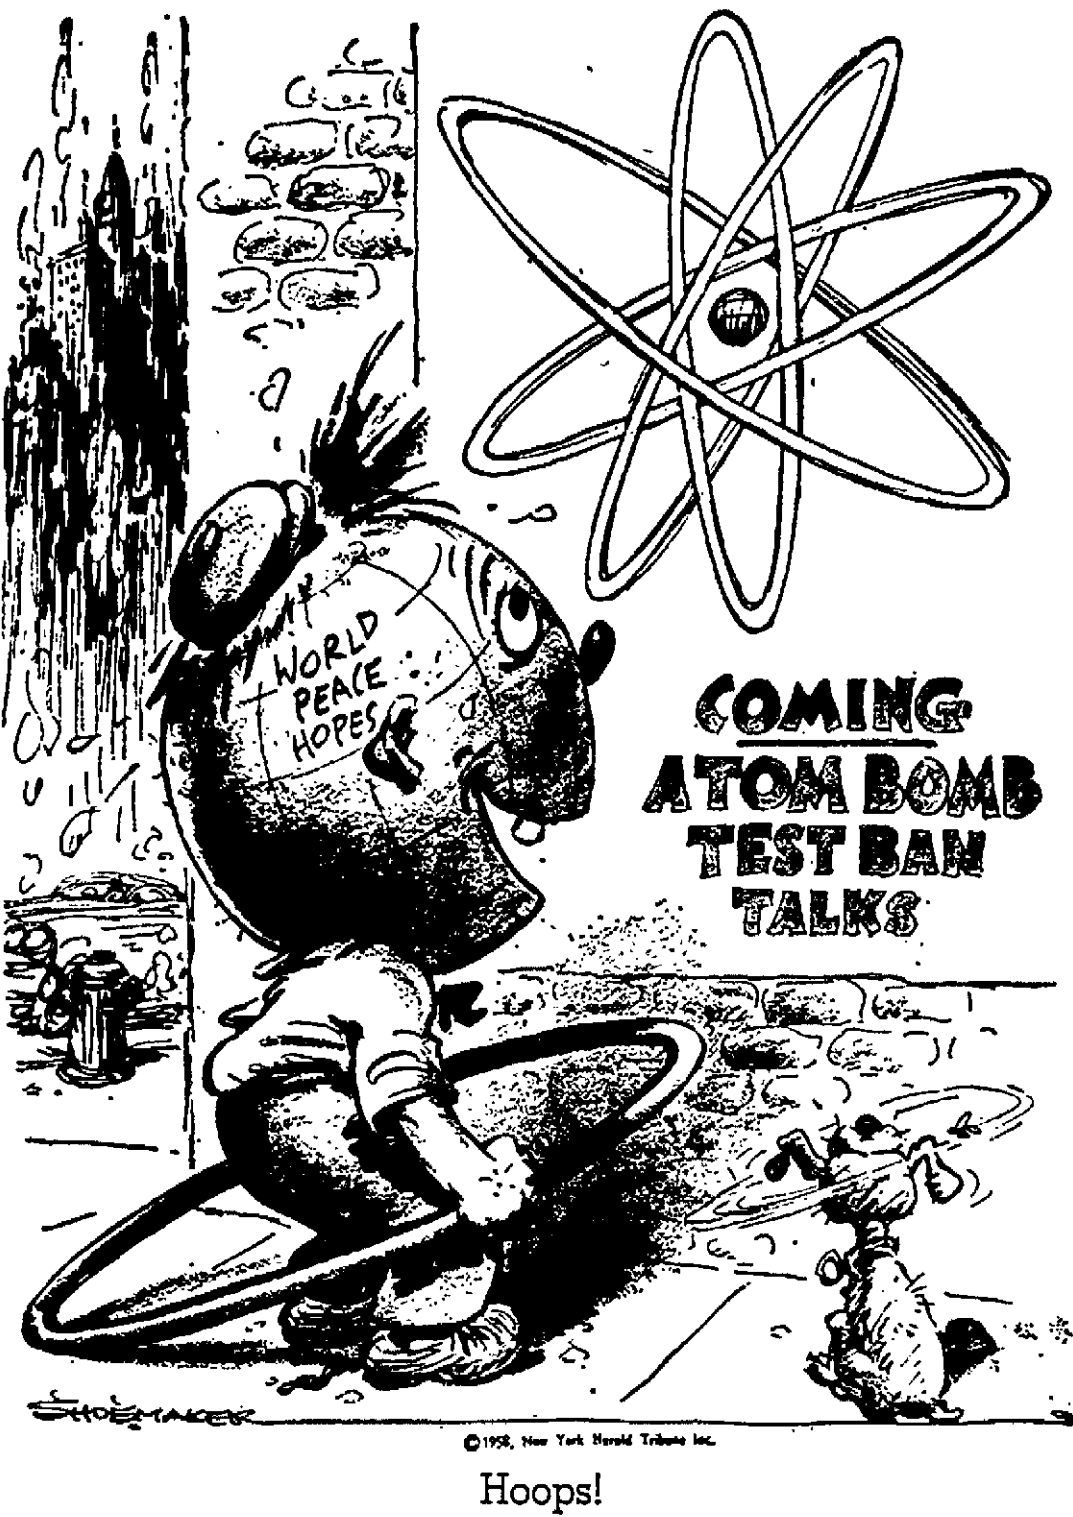

Every segment of our economy has the impression that if it could make more for putting out less the national economy would be greatly strengthened. We have a higher-pensions-and-longer-coffee-breaks psychology, and the woods are full of salesmen who are waiting for customers to beat the doors down, mechanics who are just wiping with rags, repairmen who are presenting king-sized bills for gnat-sized adjustments, and students who are hunting for snap courses.

In the long run this will outfox us all, for an economy stands not only on what it is willing to consume but also upon its willingness to produce. Right now, our appetite is fine, but our guts, sincerity and respect for a day's work well done could stand some jacking up.

Valentino Piano

Detroit — AP — A baby grand piano once owned by silent screen star Rudolph Valentino now stands in a Detroit veterans post.

The hand-painted piano, described as still in good condition, was given to American-Syrian-Lebanese Armvets Post No. 3 by Mrs. Mary Keshishian. She got it as a gift from a friend who bought the piano for $522.50 in September 1949 at an auction.

Price Index Gives False Picture Of Food Savings, Grocers Charge

From the Sheridan (Wyo.) Press

The Super Market institute is taking issue with the price index for foods as used by the labor department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

It is the institute's contention that instead of buying from the 80 items of food which the Bureau of Labor Statistics shows are going up in price, the wise housewife buys from a list of other items which are not increasing in cost. Costs of certain foods commonly used and stocked by grocery stores throughout the country are cited by the institute to show that the statistical figures are not tell the entire story.

The June price index was listed at 123.7, only one-tenth of one per cent higher than the previous month. While the increase was only very slight, the price index story is told chiefly by the steady rise that has been taking place for more than a year.

And foods are shown in recent months as contributing most heavily to the increase.

Henry J. Eavcy, president of the institute, charged that the housewife doesn't eat the statistics, but does something about the prices by shopping for less expensive items.

The super market operators contend they are offering their customers complete meals at prices which average 20 per cent less in cost than they did a year ago. They point out that the average super market is offering 6,000 items on its shelves. By shopping selectively from these 6,000 items the housewife can do far better in her purchasing than the 80 items used by the Bureau of Labor Statistics show.

As evidence that there is real support for the institute's case a Sheridan grocery advertised a complete meal for four, including frying chicken, fresh tomatoes, frozen peas, green peppers, cantaloupe, cookies, coffee, butter and pineapple juice at a saving of 20 per cent from last year.

A Pennsylvania grocery included such items in its suggested meal at a saving as chuck roast, fresh corn, potatoes, lettuce, tomato juice, olives, frozen strawberries, ice cream and angel food cake mix.

It would seem that the grocers are making a very solid case for themselves and their contention that the housewife can actually save on food items, and does not necessarily have to be influenced by the price trend shown in the consumer index. It gives strong support to the claim that the housewife always needs to buy wisely, and to do so needs to use the advertisements of grocers which list their bargain buys.

Fine Appleton Exhibit at Fair

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 20, 1879.

The new exposition building of the Northern Wisconsin Agricultural and Mechanical association was formally opened at Oshkosh on Tuesday and the fair commenced on Wednesday.

The Appleton exhibit is quite extensive. The different manufactures of the city are shown in a department by themselves.

In walking through the main aisle one is attracted first by a fine show of woolen goods, the product of the Appleton Woolen Mills, and then come the furniture, paper, wheels, hubs, tools, gate rollers, horse-nails, paper cutter, blind shutter and others.

Nelson and Thomson Talks to Get Warmer

BY JOHN WINGAARD

Madison — As leaders of their respective tickets, the campaigns of Gov. Vernon W. Thomson and state Sen. Gaylord Nelson will show a turning soon, if they follow the normal development of a campaign schedule.

The governor thus far has not controlled the argument, as the incumbent should under most desirable circumstances.

He has been spending a good deal of his time and energy in refuting the charges and challenges of his opponent. It may be guessed that there will be less of that in the succeeding weeks and more of the offensive. Thomson is an effective man on the offense in politics, as he showed during his long preparatory career. The attack will be stronger.

He also will be advised and his own instinct as a veteran stumper will verify it that he will need some positive and affirmative issues in his own arsenal, as the campaign matures. The classical politician always saves something in the way of program proposal for the campaign, a goal for this new administration, an excuse for his candidacy, so to speak.

To point to the record of prudent government and efficient administration and stabilization of taxes and all the rest, is the natural posture of the incumbent but it is pretty dull stuff for the partisan down in the ranks who must start the grass fires before election time and it imposes a terrible burden upon the publicity writer.

Sen. Nelson's campaign, meanwhile, may also be expected to show some adjustments.

He has paced his own attack deliberately and carefully. The topical subjects he has prepared are presumably not yet exhausted.

But they are likely to show a different tone, as time goes on. Nelson stands as the leader of the Democratic state ticket, and the Democratic party thus far has not heard much from him calculated to draw many cheers from its most strategic voting components.

The Nelson charges about tardy highway building, careless fund management, evasive debt-accumulation and the rest are most likely designed to weaken Thomson's position with conservatives, moderates and so-called independents. The time will come when he must rustle up some cheers from the more important of the voters he counts upon — including organized labor and the other militants among the pressure groups in state politics.

The time when he approaches the CIO's goals will also be the time when Thomson takes a more energetic counter-attack, it may be guessed.

LABOR ISSUE

In the final climactic stages of the campaign, it appears likely that "labor" will be one of the dominant themes of the argument.

Politicians, on both sides, have not yet quite figured out how to handle the issue of labor corruption and dictatorship as unveiled in the dramatic hearings of the McClellan committee in Washington.

But they are pretty sure it is one of the important matters on the voters' mind, as shown by some of the preliminary lunges of principal Republicans, and some of the anxious protestations of candidates that they want a housecleaning.

One difficulty with the issue is that it must be academic, with respect to Wisconsin. The labor racketeering worried about is somewhere else. No Republican can say that there is any real question about the integrity of organized labor in Wisconsin, and Democrats are even less disposed to do so. The problem will be to pose as reformers, without offending anybody at home.

Space Radiation Is Something To Think About

From the Philadelphia Inquirer

With all the easy talk about possibly imminent trips to the moon, Mars and other planets by men in rushing rocket ships — in Russia this talk sometimes takes on a boastful tone — there's a good deal to think about in current interpretations of messages from our own satellite, Explorer IV.

According to Carl E. McIlwain, physicist at the State University of Iowa, Explorer IV is sending ground information about the intensity of radiation as it ranges through outer space. Decoded space radiation messages, Dr. McIlwain reports, indicate that starting about 250 miles up, the intensity of radiation appears to double with approximately every 60 miles of altitude.

McIlwain says that at least 60 per cent of the charged particles bombarding Explorer IV readily penetrate the one-sixteenth inch of lead shielding one of its Geiger tubes. The findings are being consistently transmitted to Soviet scientists.

What might happen to humans adventuring into the far reaches beyond our earth? What kind of protection against tremendous radiation could be devised for them? Apparently a great deal of study, research and rocket exploration will be needed before such problems can be answered.

Ford Accord Called Pattern For Industry

GM too our people cannot look forward to a long period of labor peace and stability."

John Bugas, Ford vice president who directed negotiations for the company, also said he hoped for a period of stability based on the contract.

He said he believed GM "will be delighted" with the settlement, and added: "It is a solid contract. Our settlement with the UAW is not an excessive package." Here are the highlights of the new contract:

Wages — No flat pay increase for production workers. However, continuation of annual improvement factor and cost-of-living adjustment provides immediate increase of between 9 and 10 cents an hour. A fraction less than 7 cents comes from the 2½ per cent improvement factor, 3 cents from the cost of living adjustment.

Skilled Worker Wages — An increase of 8 cents an hour in base pay for tool and die workers and other classifications. These pay rates vary. 65 and is eligible for social the maximum payment period from 26 weeks to 39 weeks and an increase to a flat 65 per cent of take-home pay for the full period; formerly it was 65 per cent for the first four weeks and 60,000 for 30 years service. This is an entirely new contract provision.

Board to Decide — Bugas said it was up to the Ford board to decide whether the settlement would be reflected in higher car prices. Both the UAW and Ford termed the new agreement "a sound and equitable agreement which is fair to workers, the company and the American public."

The settlement came after 30 hours of around the clock bargaining and after 93 days of contract talks between the Severance (or Separation) Pay — A lump sum payment based on length of service to workers losing their jobs because of plant relocations. It pays up to a maximum of $3,000 for 30 years service. This is an entirely new contract provision.

Pensions — Increased from $2.25 a month for each year of service to $2.40 for all past service and to $2.50 for all future service. Employees now on pension are increased to $2.35. Jazz Musician Takes Own Life

Miami, Fla. —(AP)—Jazz musician Herbie Fields was found dead last night at his home, an apparent suicide. Police said he took an overdose of sleeping pills.

A note indicating he was despondent over financial and marital troubles was found, police said.

"I have completed my mission in life," said the note, addressed to Fields' mother. The 39-year-old winner of two big prizes in American jazz, the Esquire and Metro-nome awards, had taken several bottles of sleeping pills and others were found around his house, police said.

The talks went into weekend sessions for the first time last weekend amid reports a settlement was near.

Dulles Asks Cease-Fire To End Formosa Crisis

President-elect Fuad Chehab a specific schedule for early withdrawal of other U.S. forces as soon as Chehab takes office next week.

Inflammatory Propaganda —The United States hopes the assembly will consider the possibility of establishing a monitoring system to report on inflammatory broadcasts in the Middle East. This was one of President Eisenhower's proposals placed before the recent emergency session of the assembly, but not acted upon.

U.N. Peace Force—This was another Eisenhower proposal, but Dulles spelled it out more in detail. He suggested that the force would observe and patrol, but would not be equipped for combat. Its personnel would come from small countries and it would be directed by a small planning staff within the U.N. secretariat.

Disarmament—The United States will continue to press for worldwide measures to reduce the dangers of surprise attack. The recent agreement by east-west experts in Geneva on methods for detecting nuclear test explosions constitutes a significant break-through on the arms control front. The United States hopes the assembly will give encouragement, by appropriate resolution, to the forthcoming Geneva discussions on ending nuclear tests.

Outer Space — The United States will press for immediate U.N. action to bring about international cooperation in the peaceful uses of outer space. Dulles proposed creation of a committee to make preparatory studies and recommendations.

Economic Development — The United States is prepared to back a broad economic development program, both through its own contributions, through international agencies and through regional development agencies wherever the governments of the regions support such agencies. The United States also is ready to back the establishment of a new international development association, as an affiliate of the world bank.

Dulles' speech was unusually mild.

He concluded, however, by calling the Soviet Union and some other unidentified countries to task for flouting U.N. decisions and thus trying to set up double standards in the organization — one for themselves and one for others.

The secretary of state referred specifically to the 85 votes cast by the Soviet Union in the security council and to the Hungarian question. He also said some nations were reluctant to accept the U.N. charter principles outlawing aggression, direct or indirect.

"It is difficult," he said, "to reconcile that conduct with the spirit of our charter."

Even before the Dulles speech was read Peiping rejected any idea of an immediate cease-fire in the Formosa straits.

Filipinos May Ask More Military Aid From U. S.

Bangkok, Thailand, — (AP)—The Filipino delegation to the ninth SEATO military advisers conference has indicated it wants more U. S. military aid because of the Formosa crisis.

The Philippines is receiving about $10 million a year in defense support from the United States in addition to actual arms.

Lt. Gen. Aldonso Arellano, chief of staff of the Philippine armed forces, said in an interview that a delegation from his country is now in Washington and "it is likely we will ask for more aid."

"We are militarily weaker than Formosa and miscalculation by the Chinese communists could have terrible results for us," he added. "Formosa is only 60 miles from our northernmost islands."

The advisers ended their three-day closed meeting with a communique saying they had made "significant progress in the development of defensive plans against communist aggression and subversion."

Segregationist Enrolls at Texas School for Negroes

Houston, Tex. —(AP)—A white segregationist pastor says he will take his fight to enroll at Texas Southern university, a state supported college for Negroes, to the U. S. Supreme court if necessary.

Texas Southern accepted the Rev. E. A. Munroe as a student in Bible philosophy and psychology Monday pending receipt of a record of his previous college work and payment of $81 in registration fees.

But two members of the university's board of directors said yesterday the Rev. Mr. Munroe's enrollment was for political purposes, that he would be a troublemaker on the campus and that he should not be admitted.

"Hallelujah, we've won our fight," replied the Rev. Mr. Munroe, who said he enrolled at the college to show that integration is foolish and that Negroes as well as whites "lose their freedom" by having forced integration.

Chiang Opposes Dulles' Formula To Compromise With Red Chinese

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

At his press conference, Mr. Dulles sent up a trial balloon. He hinted at a formula which was to extricate this country from its entanglement in Quemoy. But because he is so deeply entangled, he could not say clearly that what he would like to do is to trade a withdrawal from the offshore islands for a pledge that the red Chinese will not use force to take over Formosa.

This would indeed be a convenient arrangement in that it would validate our Formosa policy while it got us out of our foolish and unpopular commitment in the offshore islands.

But there is no good reason

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folk who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

to hope the Dulles formula can be agreed upon. Apart from the communist opposition to it, there is the prior fact that Chiang will almost certainly oppose it. It is most improbable Mr. Dulles can get authority from Chiang to make such a deal, or even to make a serious proposal.

Two Concessions
For at the barest minimum and taking the rosiest possible view of Red China's attitude the Dulles formula would require Chiang to make two very painful concessions. One would be to withdraw his troops and to abandon the islands, which are the symbol of his intention to return to the mainland. The other concession would be to renounce publicly the use of force in order to return to the mainland, to renounce—that is to say—the fiction that the real China is in Formosa and that it will recover the rest of China.

For these reasons alone, the Dulles formula is not really a negotiating proposal. It is a debating position, good for a few public speeches, in that it suggests the attractive idea that the Chinese civil war and the Chinese-American conflict can be resolved without shooting.

This is what ought to be made to happen. But it cannot come to pass because of our entanglement, which has engaged our honor, with Chiang. If we were free of that entanglement, we could have a Formosa policy which, though unacceptable to Peiping would command wide support in this country and in the world. The principle of our policy would be that the island of Formosa is not under the law of the Japanese peace treaty as yet a part of China, and that in fact Formosa has for many generations not been governed from the mainland.

If we were free, we would, in short, go to the United Nations and propose Formosa be constituted an autonomous territory, neutralized and demilitarized under international supervision. It would be a corollary of such a proposal that the bulk of the mainland Chinese in Formosa should be repatriated to the mainland and that Chiang and his lieutenants should be given asylum in some safe place.

Although such a policy would truly serve our national interests in this area, and would be respectable in the opinion of mankind, there is no hope now that it can be adopted. Both Chiang and Mao will oppose it, and we are not free to propose what Chiang opposes.

The alternative is for the president to break off this action, thus disengaging this country from the offshore islands, and to use the power of the Seventh fleet to evacuate Chiang's troops. That this will be a defeat and a retreat is only too obvious. But, as compared with letting Quemoy be starved out, or with starting a general war over Quemoy, it is the least of the evils. For we must not deceive ourselves. There is no good way out of this dead end into which the president and Mr. Dulles have led us. (Copyright, 1958)

What Young People Think

How to Stop Teen Gang Wars? Quick Police Action, Say Youths

BY ENGINE GILBERT

They know the language of Peekskill, N. Y., made a plea for teen centers with planned recreational facilities "that teenagers like," and others recommended "more things for kids to do at night besides standing on the street."

The youngsters insisted that only a tiny minority of their age group are gang members. Eighty per cent of the boys questioned—and 87 per cent of the girls—disclaimed any knowledge of neighborhood gangs in their areas, even though many who were interviewed live in the country's largest cities.

They took a strong moral tone toward gang members, flatly condemning those who belonged as "bad," and announced that even if there were need to band together for self-protection, they would not join a gang.

Asked if they carried any type of weapon, if they had ever used a weapon, and if this use was justified, the youths overwhelmingly answered "no." Ninety-eight per cent said they did not carry any weapon, and nearly the same percentage, 93, stated they did not think having a weapon was ever justified.

Nor did they know many of their classmates or associates who did.

Urge Strong Arm
The teenagers reiterated their insistence on strong police action when they were asked, "In the case of small crimes, do you think the police department and the courts are more effective than social agencies?" Forty per cent felt the police could be utilized, 12 per cent wanted parents of offenders to go to work on the problem, and social workers ranked a low of 2 per cent as a useful force in combating juvenile gangland.

Some of the teen-agers showed a sociologist's concern. Francis V. Anderson, Philadelphia, Pa., suggested "removing the causes of frustration." This approach to understanding the troubled of fender is shared by 16-year-old Frances Gauthier, Peekskill, N.Y., who advised "meetings between the gangs in which they can discuss their differences."

Medical Attention Is Always Available to Those in Need

A mother of two married sons — and both of them out

Lower than the lowliest in the youngster's estimate is the girl gang member. Only 2 per cent knew of any girls in gangs, and as Gary Speiss, Creve Corner, Mo., said, such a girl must be "a rather low form of person."

Why Gang Wars?

When questioners dug into the reasons for forming gangs and starting gang wars, many teenagers interviewed showed adult perception of these motivations. The need for belonging, a desire to show off, and the realism of joining a gang for protection were mentioned most frequently. And in the case of female gang members, emotions like loneliness, lack of affection at home, and a feeling of inferiority were frequently mentioned as causes.

There was majority agreement on the correlation between large city living and delinquency. Eighty-six per cent of those polled agreed that cities breed trouble. "Too many temptations, not enough chores," commented Nedra Kreenen, Portland, Ore.

The great majority of youngsters believe gang battles could be reduced if weapons would be impossible to buy for teenagers. But 20 per cent of those polled are not impressed by this argument. They say teeners would find their own ways of making weapons.

of work—writes to ask me what they should do about getting medical care. I don't have all the answers. Nobody does. But I have some. These sons, by the way, both are receiving unemployment compensation. They've had jobs, but have been laid off.

In one family, the child needs shots (the letter didn't say what kind, but I presume one of the usual vaccinations.) In the other, the baby has asthma.

The answer, I think, is different for the two sons. In the case of the youngster needing inoculations, I'd say go back to the doctor who gave the earlier shots. Oh, I've heard many times about people who didn't have money—so they couldn't go to the doctor."

But in my experience, FINDING a doctor who ever refused an appeal for care is quite another matter. There may be some who put a dollar ahead of needed care, but I don't want to know them.

So what should this laid-off father do? If I were his doctor, I'd want him to come to me and lay things on the line. Just tell me the situation. I think his doctor would prefer that, too.

Doctors aren't deaf, dumb and blind. They know that patients can be temporarily out of work. So just tell your doctor. In this instance he may be able to get free vaccine. Even if he can't, he'd a lot rather give the child the care he needs, and let dad pay whenever he gets on his feet again. It may take a while, but so what?

In the case of the other youngster, the one with asthma, that may not be quite the same situation, because asthma is not usually easy to treat. It may take a lot of tracing and testing and watching, because so often allergy is at the base of the trouble.

Lengthy Disease
And asthma of that sort may sometimes last a lifetime, or until the real causes are tracked down and treated, so it is not something to brush aside casually.

It may be that the suggestion I made above, that is, going to the doctor and being frank about the situation, will be answer enough.

On the other hand, it may not, because asthma in many cases requires specialized diagnosis and special laboratory tests and the case must be referred elsewhere.

If that be the situation, go to a children's hospital. Such hospitals are in many cities, and there is one in the city from which today's letter comes. It is pointless to try to struggle along with nose drops and such; better to take the youngster to the hospital's outpatient clinic.

And again be frank, these children's hospitals, were established to give us healthy children. It costs money to run them, and they have to be paid when you can pay. However, they also are aware that fathers sometimes are out of work, but illness does not wait.

I know that people don't like to go to the doctor, or ask for any other service or commodity when they haven't got the money to pay—but in the matter of medical care, you are not asking for luxuries. You need — so don't stay away from your doctor until you get back to work. Go now. He'll understand. Or 999 in 1,000 will, and if you have the one-in-a-thousand who doesn't, why, right now is as good a time as any to find it out.

Postal Workers in Big Cities Have Little Chance for Postmaster

Cincinnati—A—Postal workers in big cities have almost no chance to become postmasters.

That's the view of Postmaster General Arthur B. Summerfield in an interview Tuesday night between convention session of the National Association of Postmasters.

"A large city postmaster does not need knowledge of postal matters when he starts," Summerfield said. "What he needs is managerial experience and knowledge of automation and mechanization."

"What does a man who has been carrying mail for 30 years know about such things?"

Summerfield said this means he will continue to draw his big city postmasters from business and professional fields.

Boy of Nine Asks Ann Why Pills Don't Get Confused Like People

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN: I am a boy. I am nine years old. My dad says you are a very smart woman. If you are so smart maybe you can answer me something. My grandmother takes three different color pills every day. I asked her what they are for. Ann Landers She told me the red pills are for her high-blood pressures, the green ones are for her nerves, and the white ones are to get fatter on. How do the pills know what they are supposed to do? After all, people who have brains got mixed up lots of times. How come pills don't? Can you answer this?—JOHNNY.

Dear Johnny: Lots of things that happen have nothing to do with brains. For instance: If you put an ice cube in a glass of warm water the ice cube will melt. The ice cube doesn't melt because its brain tells it to. It melts because heat melts ice. The same thing goes for pills. There are certain ingredients in those pills that will cause things to happen inside a human body. The doctors know what every pill will do because they have tried it out, often on animals first. When you get older and take chemistry you will see a lot of fascinating things happen before your eyes. They are called "experiments. I wish I understood them.

DEAR ANN: You always tell people the best way to resist the temptation of liquor is to stay out of the saloons. This is all well and good, and it makes a lot of sense, but what do you suggest for men who are in a spot like my husband?
He used to be a very heavy drinker. I thought he'd die in the gutter until AA straightened his life out. He's been dry for four years, but I always worry that he'll slip back into the old ways. Where he works the truck-drivers and warehousemen are always shoving liquor under his nose. When he refuses they call him "chicken" and ask if he's "afraid of his old lady." They sneak bottles into the shop and when the inspector puts the heat on, they bring the stuff in thermos jugs. I love him so much more now that he's sober. Please, Ann, how can I keep him this way?—H.M.N.
Whisky fighters need constant encouragement. You can keep your husband on the wagon by bolstering his ego every day—telling him how much you love him, and letting him know how proud you are of the victory he's won. Since A. A. saved him from the gutter, encourage him to attend meetings regularly. When he offers his hand to help a fallen brother (as he himself was helped) he gains strength and confidence for his own fight. The man who refuses to take a drink is not "chick-

Where for a Leather Chair?

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER
What kinds of rooms and furniture groupings take leather chairs? All kinds, now that there are so many kinds of leather chairs. The time-honored big leather chair is practical in pale and light-bright colors now, and the leather's so soft it tailors like fabric to new shapes and in tiny weltings. And if this weren't enough to keep them in fancy furnishing company, new leather lounge chairs also take trapunto designs and sculptured all-over patterning, as the two chairs sketched at top center show. Then smaller chairs spread leather the full range of today's favorite style. Among the new are low chairs for low dining tables like the one at top left with a cane panelled back. And pull-up chairs need leather to help them, double duty, even whether they're as graceful and dignified as the classic at lower center, or as forthright as the Danish variation of a captain's chair. Practicality never again will be more of a reason for buying a leather chair than smart style. (Copyright, 1958) en". The real "chicken" is the one who needs the golden elixir to face the realities of every day living.

DEAR ANN: In your opinion, when people are guests in the home of a friend, do they or do they not have the right to expect the pets in the house to behave properly? My husband and I called on friends last Sunday. I sat on the living room sofa. Their huge Angora cat pounced on my foot (he'd become fascinated by the tassel on my shoe) and commenced to rip my nylon stocking to pieces. The hostess was naturally embarrassed and muttered a few words of apology as she pulled the cat off. I waited for her to say something about replacing the hose, but her only comment was "I'm terribly sorry. I hope the hose weren't expensive". She then added that the cat is usually very gentle and "perhaps I teased him". Do you feel the hostess should have offered to replace the stocking or not?—ELL EFF
Your hostess was not the mostess to say the leastess. She should have offered to replace the stockings. People are responsible for the damage done by their minor children and pets. (Copyright, 1958)

Pumpkin Pie in Offing For President Eisenhower

Little Compton, R. I. —(P) Mrs. Edward M. Medeiros, 26, of West Main road, was knitting when the man stepped over to her fruit stand and began looking at the pumpkins. It was about 5:30 Wednesday evening.

"How much are these?" the man asked, holding up a pumpkin.

"Fifteen cents apiece," Laugh on Ike

"How many will it take to make a pumpkin pie?"

"That depends on how big a pie you want," said the matter of fact Mrs. Medeiros. The man and a group crowding around him laughed at her remark.

Discovers Identity

"What's so funny?" Mrs. Medeiros asked one of the men.

"That's the president," was the reply.

"President of what?"

"Of the United States."

Though she had seen several black limousines and a police escort, she had not guessed her customer was President Eisenhower.

Buys 2 Pumpkins

The president drove off with two pumpkins, several baskets of fruit and five or six onions.

And Mrs. Medeiros?

"Believe me," she said later, "If there had been a hole around I would have jumped into it."

In Good Taste Relation Of In-Laws Explained

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: Are in-laws still in-laws in a situation like my own: My husband died several years ago and I have remained friendly with his family. In fact I am very devoted to his mother. Now that I am engaged and going to marry again, do they no longer remain my in-laws?

Answer: There is no reason why you should cease to care for your first in-laws. In fact, it would be very cruel not to do so. But I cannot too strongly emphasize the need for taste as well as tact in bringing the first and second in-laws into contact with each other — including your prospective husband. With thoughtfulness, common sense, and sensitive awareness of the individual feelings of all concerned, complete success has been and can be achieved.

Ending Conversation
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it true that when a girl and man talk to each other over the telephone, she is expected to say good-bye first?

Answer: Ordinarily, yes. It is rather rude for a man to be the one to say good-bye unless of course he is at his office when it would be excusable for him to explain, "Sorry, but there is someone on the other telephone," or "Sorry, someone is coming in with whom I have an appointment." But if he is at home it is difficult for him to do anything but listen at the other end until she has finished.

Rehearsal Dinner
Dear Mrs. Post: Our son is being married. I understand that after the rehearsal the bride's family has ordered dinner in a restaurant. The members of the wedding party will be present and her parents. We have not been asked. Isn't this irregular?

Answer: This depends upon whether any persons other than the bridal party were included. If the dinner is for none but the bride and groom and their attendants, your omission was not rude.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

It may be all right to play "chatty" bridge in average circles, but when an expert declarer is at work, our strong recommendation is to button your lip. In the following deal, for example, South would have been faced with a 50-50 guess at the end if it hadn't been for a very informative remark from his right-hand adversary.

South, dealer.

The bidding rubber bridge:
South West North East

4 N T Pass 5 D Pass
5 N T Pass 6 H Pass
7 S Pass Pass Pass
South's last bid was a slight push, but in view of North's responses, the grand-slam contract was almost irresistibly attractive.
West opened the diamond queen, which immediately told South that the diamond stopper lay with West, since that defender scarcely would have opened the queen except from a safe sequence. Declarer took the first trick with the diamond ace, led a trump to dummy, and after long thought played the heart seven. He huddled slightly again before putting on his own ace, and that brought a reaction from East. "Woof!" he said, shivering. "I thought sure you were going to finesse against me!"

It was not a discreet vocal performance. Now South knew that East had the heart queen, and thus he would have had to guess whether to finesse for the club king or to play the heart jack to the king, then ran off all the rest of his trumps, and a double squeeze followed as night follows day. When the last trump was cashed, West had to blank his club king to keep diamond protection, and the situation soon became crystal-clear. South then led to the diamond king and returned the club he had kept in dummy, and when East played low, there was no question of finessing because East's other remaining card was known to be the heart queen—not the club king.

If East had kept quiet, declarer could not have known at the end, who had the heart lead devotions and Mrs. Ver-non Reistad, hostess chair-man, will be assisted by the Mmes. Archie Mauk and Salvatore Tralongo.

10-9 Vote Approves Oneida Bridge Plan

Mrs. Stillings' Doubts Touch Off Discussion of High Span Prospects

Aldermanic doubts Wednesday night almost stopped plans for the proposed $740,000 S. Oneida street low level bridge over the government canal.

Approval was by a 10-to-9 vote.

Backing the plans were Aldermen R. P. Groh, Harold Hannemann, Roy Pointer, Harvey Priebe, Sr., Kenneth Priebe, Thomas K. Schneider, Al. H. Stoegebauer, Allan Sonkowsky, Robert Stumpf and Gerald Wagner. Ald. Douglas Ogilvie was an excused absentee.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings, who confessed shame for her doubts at this late stage in bridge planning, touched off a lengthy discussion. She urged delay of decision for two weeks when she said she might have better answers to some questions which were bothering her.

Editorial, Then Talk Chief among her doubts, she said, was a suspicion the low level bridge might not be good enough 10 years from now. Too, she said she isn't satisfied that the state highway commission would not grant aid under the long bridge act for construction of a high level bridge instead.

Ald. Ervin J. Bogan noted that Mrs. Stillings' worries were coming on the council night during which a sixth payment was being voted the bridge planning firm.

"There's an editorial in the Post-Crescent," said Bogan, "and all of a sudden there's talk of a high level bridge. That kind of a bridge probably will cost $4 to $5 million and you better think about whose money you're spending . . . how taxes go up."

Bogan reminded veteran aldermen that he and others wanted to replace the present span about 10 years ago when the other S. Oneida bridge was constructed. He said the low level structure is vital to industry on the river island and otherwise will suffice.

"Maybe in 10 years we will build another high level bridge," he said, "but it'll be a lot farther west."

Equipment must get into the bridge area before the freeze, Bogan reported, or the delay will hike the bridge cost.

"I admit my own failure," retorted Mrs. Stillings. "I feel guilty about . . . being lax in not taking an alternate into account. And I want Ald. Bogan to know that I thought especially about him and his resolutions about congestion in the bridge area. No one has been more critical."

"That's true," snapped Bogan, "but I can wait an awful long time for a couple of million dollars. You've got to think of the debt and the financial outlook."

Hannemann, who said he asked for a high bridge about 14 years ago and was turned down, backed Bogan. He cited lack of public reaction in the months since the bridge project was announced and added, "We know we aren't going to spend the kind of money Ald. Bogan's talking about, so let's go ahead."

No Notice (Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski after the meeting said the bridge plan in informal discussion once had estimated a high bridge cost at $4 million, but recently had talked in terms of between $3 and $3½ million.)

"I find considerable fault," said Ald. Austin N. Tucker, "with being asked to vote for $800,000 (the amount of the initial bond sale approved to cover low bridge costs) without prior notice. I didn't find out about it until I arrived for the meeting about 7 o'clock. I don't feel I'm well enough informed to vote."

Ald. Homer Malmstrom reminded Tucker the project "has been in the cooker for months and months and was discussed pro and con."

"But," Malmstrom added, "I've never been satisfied we were acting wisely. I'm very much in a quandry. A high level bridge would be about twice as long as the Candee street one and could cost $4 million. We couldn't expect state aid in three or four years, but that shouldn't be a deterrent."

Asks Delay

To wait two or three years on the basis of a newspaper editorial "is throwing a wrench in the works," Malmstrom admitted, but "two weeks will not slow down work too much and it will give people two weeks to react and offer advice."

Malmstrom said he never visualized the low level bridge as anything but a temporary structure. If it's good for 10 years, it won't be a bad investment, he said.

The alderman pointed out that some ingredients for a decision—how fast pleasure boat traffic will grow or the possibility of railroads removing tracks that cross S. Oneida—require a good crystal ball "like some people seem to have."

Mrs. Stillings emphatically declared the Post-Crescent editorial was not the motivation for her questions.

Cites Meeting

Ald. R. P. Groh recalled the informal approval of the low level plan by the council in a committee of the whole session Dec. 17. "There were no contrary thoughts then," he said. Groh also pleaded for some thought of economy.

Duszynski offered a way out: Adopt the bonding recommendation, but hold off two weeks on approval of plans and the order to advertise for bids. The bonding procedure could be stopped anytime before bid taking, probably in December, he explained.

"In the next two weeks, you'll get enough publicity so that you can tell what the people want," he said.

City Clerk Elden J. Broehm told Malmstrom residents could protest the bond sale any time between Oct. 1 and Oct. 31.

Duszynski told Ald. Charles

Captain the present structure is "trouble, no question about it." It was erected in 1898.

Malmstrom moved to refer the plans back to the works board for more study, the motion which lost 10-9.

Laird Attacks Opponents on Farm Problem

Shawano — Wisconsin families are interested in performance, not promises, on the farm problem, Rep. Melvin R. Laird declared in an address to the Shawano county farm bureau Wednesday evening.

He attacked "politicians who want to make a political football out of farm problems and programs—and then are not heard from until the next election."

Three dairy bills proposed by Laird were enacted during the last session of congress, he stated. They included legislation to continue the school milk program, to expand the use of dairy products by the armed forces and veterans administration and to continue brucellosis eradication.

Laird claimed credit for defeating an attempt by oleo manufacturers to replace butter with their product in armed forces mess halls.

The 1958 farm bill would have cut farmers income, not raised it, Laird said.

Extend 1-Way To Wisconsin, Alderman Asks

Plea Also Made For Arterial on N. Rankin Street

The north-south 1-way street plan should be continued north to Wisconsin avenue, Ald. Austin Tucker told the city council Wednesday.

The north-bound only carrier, Oneida street, and the south-bound only carrier, Appleton street, end and start now on the north at Pacific street.

Similar suggestions in the past have been turned down because the move would put 1-way streets on both sides of Columbus school.

Ald. Douglas Ogilvie asked that N. Rankin street be made an arterial street from E. College avenue to E. Pacific street. Stop signs should be placed at the E. Washington, E. Franklin and E. Eldorado street intersections, he said. He cited increasing danger of accidents.

Remodel Theater
Ogilvie also called for development of a method to repair curbing without removing complete curbs. It would cut property owner and city costs, he said.

Contractor Theodore Utischig asked permission to block about five feet of sidewalk in front of the Viking theater, where he is to remodel the front entrance. The street and sanitation committee was given power to act without referral back to the council.

Industrial Appraisal company, Milwaukee, offered to appraise city, water commission and park board property for $4,500. A letter said the subject had been discussed with Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell.

Tucker also called for immediate repair of W. Atlantic street from N. Oneida street to N. Appleton street. He said he was aware reconstruction is planned next year.

Seek Beer Licenses
William L. Tyrrell, of Bill's Delicatessen, 300 N. Richmond street, and Mrs. Lloyd Meredith, 127 S. Walnut street, asked for beer licenses.

The Otto Sprister estate asked for measures to stop flooding of a store it owns at 601 N. Morrison street.

Ald. Allan Sonkowsky asked that property owners at the southwest corner of E. Glendale avenue and N. Alexander street be permitted to hire their own sanitary sewer contractor for an extension along N. Alexander. The street and sanitation committee was given power to act.

Ald. R. P. Groh wants an inspection of the west side of S. Durkee street, south of E. Lawrence street, to find a solution to surface water erosion troubles.

Want Lights
Ald. Gerald Wagner asked for a parking ban on the east side of N. Erb street and W. Wisconsin avenue north 150 feet.

Wagner also seeks street lights and signs at the intersections of N. Division street with W. Pershing and W. Lindbergh streets.

Ald. Kenneth Priebe wants a light at S. Ritger street and E. Lincoln street. Ald. Clarence Lautenschlaeger wants one at E. McArthur and N. Morrison street.

Ask Architect For $71,000 Trade School Addition

Authority to hire an architect for a $71,000 building was asked of the city council by the vocational school board Wednesday.

The structure would be an addition to the present trades building, Board President E. C. Hilbert said. It would be 75 feet by 86 feet and 1-story high.

The addition, he said, would have concrete floors, concrete block and a steel deck insulated roof. The exterior would be in stone and glass to blend with the present building.

The building, Hilbert added, would be used for automotive trades, warehousing, storage of school vehicles and a large general purpose room for classes or semi-shop activities.

It also would include equipment and a paint spray booth large enough to accommodate all city vehicles, a feature sought by Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell.

Homemakers to Raise Funds in Cake Sale

Brillion — The Kitchen Kutters Homemakers club is planning to sponsor a cake sale to raise money for its share of the expenses for the community-wide committee seeking improvements at the city park.

The committee is composed of representatives of organizations in the city. Each organization is expected to pay part of the expenses of the improvements study.

Rest Home Will Open

$50,000 Building Can Accommodate 34 Residents

Work has been completed on the new $50,000 Modern Convalescent home, 2001 French road, in Grand Chute.

Owner is Paul Kerkhoff, Hollandtown. An open house will be held Sunday afternoon.

The home can accommodate 34 residents. It has four 4-room wards, eight double rooms and two private rooms. Also included are a kitchen, employees' dressing room, managers' office, reception and dining rooms. Boiler and laundry rooms are in the basement. The rooms are painted in green, beige, orchid and pink.

Each room will have telephone connections and a nurse-call hookup, Kerkhoff reports.

The brick and stucco structure is on an acre of land. The property includes a parking lot.

The home has been inspected and approved by the state board of health, the owner said.

Contractor was the Dick Oudenhoven Construction company, Kaukauna.

Post-Crescent to Sponsor Program For Area Firms

An expert in the use and effectiveness of color in newspaper advertising will be one of the featured speakers at a Post-Crescent sponsored color forum Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 30, at Appleton Elks club.

Ernest Klostermann, vice president of the Sta-Hi Color Service Sales corporation, will address interested business representatives on "The Why of Newspaper Color Advertising." He is credited with having more overall know-how on newspaper color advertising than any man in the field in the United States.

The forum is believed to be one of the first of its kind held anywhere under the sponsorship of a newspaper for business of a local or semi-local nature. It was arranged by the Post-Crescent for benefit of area firms interested in the sales potential of newspaper color advertising.

Other speakers on the 2-hour program include a color specialist from a nationally syndicated mat service, an executive of the Chicago Tribune stereotype department and a representative of the Milwaukee Journal color service, the latter to give a presentation of "Coloroptics." There also will be shown a full-color film, "Color Sells Everything."

Over 100 Fox Cities business people are expected to attend the 12:25 luncheon and afternoon program.

Would be Mistake to Sell Good Stocks to Reinvest, Advisor Says

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. I made my first venture into the stock market last January, when I invested about $9,000. I bought shares of Gimbel, Public Service Electric and Gas, Union Pacific, Wrigley, Standard Oil of Indiana and Reynolds Tobacco Co.

I felt that at 56 years of age, I should invest for income. These stocks yield from 5 to 6 1/2 per cent in dividends (on the price I paid for them).

A prudent investor friend of mine now tells me to sell speculation. This company of all my holdings, take a profit of about $1,250 and then reinvest my money in good 5 or 6 per cent income stocks. He says if the new stocks I buy move up, I can sell them. If they don't, I can hold them for income.

Do you agree? Can't Be Sure A. That would be a neat trick—if you could be sure it would work.

Suppose, however, that new stocks you buy don't move up, don't even hold steady—but fall in price. What then?

You hold a nice group of stocks. Don't you agree that it would be silly to dump them all? You would have to pay taxes on your profit. Don't forget that. And sooner or later your choices aren't going to be so wise.

Even professional traders don't unload all their holdings at the drop of a hat. They're selective. And you should be too. If you are dissatisfied with present performance or future potential of one or two of your stocks, go ahead, sell and switch into something you like better. Meanwhile, hang onto those you still think kindly about.

In short, I don't think your friend is so "prudent."

Fleet of Ships

Q. My broker suggests that I buy some Seatrain Lines stock as an investment, not a speculation. This company operates a fleet of specially constructed ships, each of which carry 100 loaded freightcars between New York, Savannah, New Orleans and Texas City. The company recently announced plans to transport freight in containers (less than carload lots) using railroads, trucks and Seatrain vessels.

Fitch's Individual Stock Bulletin rate the company as financially sound with growth ahead and states that Sun Oil owns about 20 per cent of Seatrain's outstanding stock.

Seatrain has a record of retaining a good amount of its earnings for corporate purposes. Its earnings have been hurt by the recession but a pickup is expected this fall. The annual dividend rate on the stock is now 50 cents a share. Some dividends have been paid every year since 1941.

I would appreciate your opinion of this stock.

Put in Effort

A. And I appreciate your question. That's why I printed as much of your letter as space permits. It's always a pleasure to hear from someone who really puts an effort into investing—someone who digs up all the facts available about a security.

I'll make a flat prediction. You're going to be a successful investor. You listen to what your broker has to say and then go and search out other information from satisfactory reference books and other sources.

In this case, though, I'm afraid I will have to dampen your enthusiasm a little. From where I sit, it looks as if that expected improvement in Seatrain's earnings will have to materialize before it rates as a top notch investment. If that happens, there should be nothing to worry about.

Approve Philippine Loan of $5 Million

Manila, Philippines — (AP) — The United States and the Philippines Wednesday signed an agreement under which this country is to get a loan not exceeding $5,200,000.

The money will come from the sale of surplus commodities made available under the terms of the agricultural commodities agreement signed by the two countries in June, 1957. The loan is to assist in financing economic development.

Wiley Lays Taipei Crisis To Russians

Washington — (AP) — Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) said Wednesday Russia's main aim in the Middle East and the present crisis in the Formosa Strait is a diversionary tactic.

The purpose, he said, is to see if the United States will back up.

Wiley, senior Republican member of the senate foreign relations committee, said he is convinced Soviet leaders are back of the Chinese red bombardment of Quemoy and the Matsu Islands and the threatened invasion of Formosa.

"But," he said, "the eye of the Soviets still is on the Middle East. That is their prime interest at this time. The Formosa crisis is a diversionary move."

Wiley said he is in complete agreement with President Eisenhower's recent speech saying there will be no appeasement of aggressors.

"President Eisenhower has stated the situation clearly to all those who want to understand," Wiley said. "The issue is not the Quemoy and Matsu islands themselves."

What the communists are conducting there is an operation to see if we will back up. "As long as we are alert and adequate and do not back off, there will not be a third world war. But if we follow the tactics at Munich, that would be sure to bring it on."

Plan New Phone Cable Between Canada, Britain

Montreal — (AP) — A British post office cable ship is surveying a route for a new submarine telephone cable between Canada and Britain.

This third telephone cable under the Atlantic is to be completed in 1961. The ocean section will run from Oban, Scotland, to White Bay, Newfoundland.

The first voice circuits under the Atlantic were completed in 1956. A second voice cable, a U. S. - European project, is scheduled to start service in 1959.

The third telephone cable has been dubbed Cantat, for Canadian and Transatlantic, and will be the first laid primarily to provide voice circuits between Canada and the British Isles.

The Canadian Overseas Telecommunications corporation and Cable and Wireless Ltd. of Britain are 50-50 partners in the $25 million project. The companies agreed in 1957 to finance, provide and maintain the cable.

The British post office is doing the cable-laying job. Cantat is to provide 60 voice circuits, each interchangeable with 48 telegraph circuits.

Library Will Show Movies For Children

The Appleton public library will show movies during its regular children's story hour time at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

According to Miss Janet Meili, children's librarian, movies will be shown about once each month if the program proves popular. The other weeks will be devoted to telling children's stories as has been done in the past.

Saturday's movies will be "Johnny Appleseed" and "Laplanders." They are among films sent to the library by the Wisconsin film circuit of which the library is a member.

The 16 millimeter films also are available to the public upon request at the library. New films are received about once each month.

Post-Crescent News Service
DePere—Buyers of the three grand champions paid $1,610.40 for 1,336 pounds of meat on the hoof at the Brown county fairgrounds Wednesday.

The highlights of the sale at the 14th annual Northeastern Wisconsin Junior Livestock exposition was a record-breaking $5.50 a pound for the top lamb.

A dollar and a half a pound, just a nickel short of the record set in 1957, was paid for the grand champion barrow.

The steer brought a creditable 81 cents. This was a penny more than last year, but well short of the record bid of $1.50 in 1956.

Top Buyers
Herb Olson, president of the Olson Transportation company, Green Bay, bought the lamb. The barrow was knocked down by Ed Schuster, of the Schuster Construction company, Denmark. Vince Hanson, head of a Manitowoc realty firm, purchased the steer.

Excellent prices prevailed throughout the sale of 174 steers, 67 lambs and 194 barrows.

A total of 224 farm boys and girls, members of 4-H clubs and the Future Farmers of America, competed in the 3-day exposition. They came from 18 counties in northeastern Wisconsin and as far south as Ozaukee.

Steifes Got $445
Alfred Steifes, 20-year-old Chilton High School graduate, was the owner of the grand champion lamb. An 81-pound Southdown, it cost Olson a total of $445.50.

In paying $5.50 for the lamb, Olson topped the record of $5 set by Schuster last year. Schuster was in on the bidding again Wednesday, forcing Olson to set the new record.

Bidding for the grand champion barrow started at 50 cents, and it soon was apparent that Hanson was interested in the Manitowoc county entry, owned by Don Pritzl, 17, of Cato. The barrow was a Hampshire weighing 215 pounds. At a dollar and a half, it cost Hanson $322.50.

Thirty-five cents was the first offer on the steer, a 1,040-pound Angus owned by Gerald Van Rossum, 20, of Wrightstown with Schuster finally topping his successful 1957 offer by one cent. That meant an outlay of $842.40.

Less Than 1957
Good as the prices were, they aggregated $86 less than the $1,696.40 paid for the grand champions last year. But in 1957 the steer, lamb and barrow came to 1,432 pounds, while the total weight this year was 1,336.

Best price for a reserve champion was $2 a pound for a 97-pound lamb owned by George Doern, Chilton. The purchaser was the Scanlon and Scott Lumber company of Oconto. Last year the price was 65 cents.

Art Staple of the Fox Valley Cooperative, Appleton, bought the 1,045-pound reserve champion steer, a Hereford, for 40 cents a pound. That was seven cents under last year's price. The owner was Jeff Brayton, Oshkosh.

The Press-Gazette bid 57 cents for the reserve barrow, a Berkshire weighing 196 pounds, owned by Leroy Braasch, Manitowoc. Last year the price was 50 cents.

Grand River Cooperative of Markesan bought the grand champion hog carcass from a home town girl, Bonnie Menke. It weighed 144 pounds, and the price was 85 cents.

The reserve carcass brought 50 cents from the Green Bay Packing company. Entered by Gerald Staudinger, Cato, it weighed 162 pounds.

A good price of $1.35 was paid by Rolling Acres Supply, Reedsville, for the champion lamb carcass. Alfred Steifes, Chilton, was the owner. The dressed weight was 52 pounds.

Green Bay Pack paid a dollar even for the 44-pound reserve lamb carcass. Leo Kalmerton, Sheboygan Falls, was the owner.

The owners of the animals don't collect all of the money paid for the grand and reserve champions. Because there often is a wide variance in prices paid for champions and almost all champions, the Green Bay Association of Commerce worked out a profit-sharing plan.

Owners of grand champion animals can collect not more than twice the average price of the sale. Reserve champions are limited to one and a half times the average. The rest of the money is shared equally for all animals grading prime or, in the case of barrows, No. 1.

The average price for lambs was $37.63; for barrows, $25.30, and for steer, better than $28.

Valley Fair To Hold Two Style Shows

Prevue Friday Night, Major Presentation Saturday Afternoon

The second annual fall style show at Valley Fair shopping center will be from 2 to 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with a prevue showing Friday night, according to David Meyer, chairman.

The prevue, being held for the first time, will be a different show from the major presentation Saturday afternoon, Meyer said. The Friday night show will be held from 7 o'clock to 7:30. Both showings will be given in the central mall of the shopping center. A special stage is being erected to increase the seating capacity to 500.

Mrs. S. F. Schernik, 517 W. Lawrence street, will serve as narrator, and Lorraine Vogt will perform at the organ during the shows and present a prelude before the style presentations.

Assisting Meyer on the committee are George Wohlford, Glen Kvale, Joseph Trudell, Thomas Loysen, Evelyn Bock, Irma Juneau, Richard Waldhaus, Donald Gorees and Thomas Goodrich.

The style shows, sponsored by the center's merchant association, are featured events of Valley Fair Fall Opening Appreciation days, which start Thursday night and continue through Saturday night.

Federated Drives are Coming, Red Cross Told

Community Chests are the coming thing and the amount of Red Cross money raised through them is increasing year by year, members of the Outagamie County Red Cross chapter heard Wednesday night.

Speaker was William Walton, Oshkosh, an active Red Cross worker and a national vice chairman. He spoke to about 60 people at the annual dinner at Trinity Lutheran church.

He stated that last year about 40 per cent of Red Cross monies were raised through Community Fund drives over the country and the figure rose to 50 per cent this year.

"I think it's the coming thing," he contended. "But we don't encourage it in Oshkosh. We do well by ourselves."

National policy has been clarified to let local chapters enter federated drives, he went on, but said entry into such money raising projects entails three qualifications:

1. It must be for a 1-year term only.

2. The Red Cross controls its own budget.

3. The agency retains the privilege of conducting its regular March fund raising campaign if the Community Chest is unsuccessful.

"If it seems we are preferred stockholders in the Community Fund, then we are preferred stockholders. After all, they need us in most communities. We are the largest and the only single agency with a responsibility to the government under a charter."

If Red Cross chapters join in a federated drive, Walton asked them to participate as partners in the organization and to offer personnel and assistance in the drive.

He said the national Red Cross would have to raise $96 million this year, an increase of about $12 million over the amount raised last year.

Walton asked his audience to be proud of the organization and to be aggressive in the fund-raising policy.

"We got some bad publicity during the war," he stated, "but how is it possible to hire 24,000 new workers and not get some 8-balls? It's got to be. But don't judge the organization by its human frailties. Judge it by its policies."

Attention Appleton Property Owners!

Is Your Street Planned for Initial Improvement or Curb and Gutter and/or a Surfacing Improvement Next Year?

If So, We Urge You to Consider Concrete With Its Many Economic and Other Advantages to You and to Your City.

Cost?

If your residential street has not been "graded and gravelled", the ASSESSMENT for 7-inch concrete may be LESS THAN 60c PER FRONT FOOT MORE than for the minimum type of surfacing—thin (1½ inch) asphalt on a light gravel base.

Post-Crescent
Aug. 19, 1958

Considering the latest concrete bid, the cost in special assessments to owners of newly opened residential property would be about $5.27 a foot for concrete. All work would be complete in a year.

Considering present charges, the cost for grading, graveling, curb, gutter and asphalt mat would be about $5.78 a foot in new residential areas if the work is spread over three or more years, and $4.70 a foot if spread over two years.

Front Foot Assessment for Concrete . . $5.27 (includes curb)

Front Foot Assessment for Asphalt—$4.70 or 5.78 if the gravel is allowed to settle 3 or more years.

Why Such a Small Difference For the LONGER - LASTING CONCRETE?

Because the city's assessment policy is aimed at encouraging permanent-type, low maintenance, long-life streets — definite advantages to the property owner and the general taxpayer.

IF YOUR PRESENT STREET has been "graded and gravelled" — but no curb and gutter, the assessment for an all-concrete street would be about $1.35 per front foot (about $80 per 60-foot lot) MORE than for the minimum street. BUT, the assessment can be paid for over a 5 year period AND LOOK What CONCRETE OFFERS YOU for this small difference.

NO MESSY TRUCKS ONTO YOUR DRIVEWAY OR INTO YOUR HOME. (Other types of streets require periodic seal coatings to keep them in a reasonable state of repair).

NO DUSTY CHIPS DURING THE TACK AND SEAL COATING OPERATIONS. (These operations are not required on a concrete street).

BETTER DRAINAGE. No 'bird-baths' or standing pools of water on a concrete street. These deficiencies are most common with rolled-type (oil or asphalt) surfaces.

SAFEST. Concrete is the safest pavement . . . wet or dry . . . day or night. Concrete's gritty surface is the most uniformly skid-resistant and at night its bright clean surface reflects more light . . . an important safety feature.

SPEEDY CONSTRUCTION. Concrete is built all in one operation. Other types take two or more years.

Remember:--

Records Show Concrete Will Last Approximately 2 to 3 Times Longer Than Asphalt Mat on Gravel Street

Surface Replacement Is Reassessed Against the Property Owner!

Only With Concrete Do You Have The Best Assurance of Not Being Reassessed for Additional Street Improvements

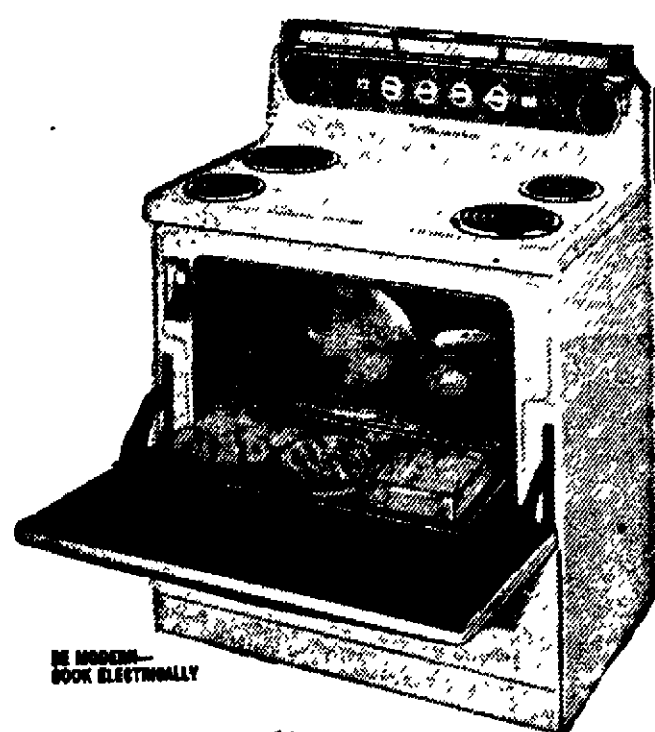

You Are Encouraged To Inform Your Alderman of Your Request for a Permanent-type Concrete Improvement So That Your Street Will Be Programmed in the Fall Budget for Next Year's Construction.

Benson Blasts Political Foes

Tells Janesville Audience U. S. Farmers Want Free Enterprise

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Janesville — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson spent Wednesday campaigning in the heart of southern Wisconsin, and attacked those Wisconsin political enemies who have made him a punching bag for the last six years. Probably no politician since Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy has been such a favorite target of Democrats and liberals in Wisconsin.

A year or two years ago even some of his own Republican colleagues thought him a liability and some of them were hoping that he would leave the cabinet. But the cli-spendthrift and scoffed at the Proxmire farm bill, which he said was so poorly regarded in the senate that it wasn't even given a hearing. Proxmire would "socialize American farming", he claimed. In other passages of his speech the cabinet officer punched hard.

"Farmers want to produce for markets and not for government bounty," he said. Farmers want government at their side, not on their backs.

"Farmers know that the farms of America cannot be run from a desk in Washington."

Singler Unable to Talk With Benson

Milo Singler, Shiocton, Democratic candidate for congress in the Eighth district, said today he tried to talk to Benson Wednesday night by telephone on his challenge to debate with the secretary of agriculture, but was unable to reach him. Singler said Benson was "afraid to answer the telephone" and his "third lieutenant" answered. "He gave me the royal run-around, saying in very polite terms that the secretary would answer my letter," Singler reported. The Shiocton farmer said he told Benson's representative it was essential to talk about these things (farm problems) in public, especially before farmers, who are the people most affected.

mate may be changing. The Rock county Republican committee insisted to Washington that it wanted Benson to help its election campaign, and farmers' votes are as important here as anywhere else in Wisconsin.

Last night more than 300 listeners paid $10 apiece into the party campaign fund to get into the hall to listen to his speech.

He repeated the familiar arguments — that the American farmer wants free markets and that the government warehouse is not a market, that the farmers' income has improved under the free enterprise principles of the administration, and that the dairy farmer in particular can be encouraged by a stronger consumer demand for his products.

There has been a picture in some quarters of Benson as a dour, dignified and scholarly and remote man.

But he showed himself here as a high-spirited and friendly campaigner, a hard-hitting orator, and an effective partisan.

He drew a bead on Sen. William Proxmire, the principal target of the Wisconsin Republican campaign this year.

He ridiculed him as a

POST-CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities Menasha - Neenah

Neenah Endorses Region Plan Idea

Last Commission Member to State Position on Proposed Area Survey

Neenah. — The city council went on record Wednesday night as favoring, at least in principal, the idea for local and regional planning advanced by the Fox Valley Regional Planning commission. Neenah thus became the last member of the 10-community organization to express itself on the idea of hiring a professional planner who would prepare a blueprint for future development for each municipality in the framework of a regional plan with the help of the commission staff.

Only the town of Grand Chute has opposed the idea. Appleton has endorsed it, but with a number of "ifs." The other seven members — Menasha, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Combined Locks, Little Chute and the towns of Neenah and Menasha — have given it a relatively unqualified endorsement.

The resolution favoring continued support of the commission and its plan was introduced by Ald. James Dinius, who said Neenah's delay in expressing itself was good in that it brought about a reevaluation of the proposal, but added that no good would come of postponing action any longer.

The action does not commit the city to adoption of any plan which might be submitted by the commission or the professional planner. Ald. Paul Hansen said that, although no legal obligation is incurred, the city was taking on itself a moral obligation to either accept a proposed plan or to work hard to improve a disagreeable plan, should it fail to accept it.

"Innocuous" Motion Mayor Chester Bell said the city should not put itself in the position of having to accept any one plan now, but termed Dinius' motion "innocuous" and likened it to "a pious declaration in favor of home, God and country."

Eight of the nine aldermen present voted for the resolution. The only dissenter was Ald. Warren Sanders who said he agreed with part of the regional planning commission's proposal and disagreed with part. In an ultimate, binding vote on the matter, he might vote "Yes," Sanders indicated.

eral funds and that this fund could be used to "buy" the Walnut - Doty site for parking. Sanders retorted saying that the parking meter money belongs to every citizen, just as any other city monies, and that the total cost of the two sites, no matter which pocket the money comes from would remain $115,500.

Cites $115,500 Cost Sanders contended that to keep the $60,000 Walnut-Doty site and also buy the $55,500 Church - Franklin site would cost a total of $115,500.

Garlock disputed this, saying that the parking meter fund is segregated from general funds.

Garlock said that the prime concern of the council was to build a police station and that this couldn't be delayed while the city "drifts aimlessly while we fumble toward a more perfect (parking problem) solution."

Bell said that the city's choice of a station site would be made much simpler if a businessman or group were to buy part of the Walnut-Doty land for a parking lot. Only part of that area is now graded for parking, the purchase and work being done with about $24,000 of parking meter money. The rest, $36,000 worth, was bought with money borrowed from local banks and originally earmarked for the police station.

If the city could recover the $36,000, Bell indicated, it would no longer have $60,000 invested in one site and could purchase another site, more favorable to the business interests, more easily.

Cites $115,500 Cost Sanders contended that to keep the $60,000 Walnut-Doty site and also buy the $55,500 Church - Franklin site would cost a total of $115,500.

Garlock disputed this, saying that the parking meter fund is segregated from general funds.

Garlock said that the prime concern of the council was to build a police station and that this couldn't be delayed while the city "drifts aimlessly while we fumble toward a more perfect (parking problem) solution."

Bell said that the city's choice of a station site would be made much simpler if a businessman or group were to buy part of the Walnut-Doty land for a parking lot. Only part of that area is now graded for parking, the purchase and work being done with about $24,000 of parking meter money. The rest, $36,000 worth, was bought with money borrowed from local banks and originally earmarked for the police station.

If the city could recover the $36,000, Bell indicated, it would no longer have $60,000 invested in one site and could purchase another site, more favorable to the business interests, more easily.

Oshkosh — Winnebago county's new superintendent of schools, Mrs. Maxine Ott, said today she expects to begin work in her new post Monday. She has been serving as principal of Sunset school in the town of Oshkosh here for the last eight years.

As principal she has handled a staff of eight teachers for the school of 214 pupils. She has been a resident of Oshkosh for 23 years, is married and has two sons, one of whom is a sophomore at Oshkosh State college and the other who is with the air force at Bunker Hill, Ind.

She received her degree at Memphis, Tenn., where she attended for three years after one year at Michigan State university. She has studied at Oshkosh State college for four summer schools in the field of supervision.

Prior to coming to the Sunset school she taught four years in the elementary grades at Kennan, Wis.

She succeeded Robert Fowler who resigned last summer to become principal of the Spring Road school in the town of Menasha. The county has been without a superintendent since Fowler left Aug. 15.

The county still is without one supervising teacher.

Police to 'Make Do' on $1,000 for Annual Fete

Council Grants $800 Less Than in '57 For This Year's Halloween Party

Neenah — The police department will try to "make do" with the $1,000 appropriated by the city council for this year's halloween party, Police Chief Irving Stulp said this morning.

He indicated that the scale of the party would have to be reduced from last year and that the police would cut corners wherever possible.

The council, on a finance committee recommendation and action, unanimously voted the money Wednesday night. The amount is $800 less than voted last year.

The committee reached its decision only a few moments before the council meeting, after a month of deliberation.

Stulp, in a letter Aug. 15, told the committee "We feel any cut in the funds from the 1957 cost would be unwise," and asked for $1,800 again.

Approached Schools Sometime after this, school officials were asked to take over the party, for between $500 and $700. This proposal was turned down by the school officials.

The first committee action was Tuesday night, when members agreed informally to offer the police between $800 and $1,000 for the party.

Wednesday afternoon Sgt. Lawrence Malouf, party chairman, wrote the committee saying "We are familiar with the council's attempt to lower all costs and want to be in accord with this body's wishes. However, in all fairness to our halloween party, we feel that $1,300 should be appropriated."

"We would like to point out that although our halloween party is labeled for the one day, Oct. 31, we feel it helps

Chamber, Council Debate City Policy on Parking, Police Site

Garlock Urges Present Site Be Untouched

Neenah — What started out as a mutual enlightenment discussion of two conflicting views on where Neenah's proposed police station is to be located Wednesday night developed into a debate on how badly downtown parking is needed, for whom, and who should be expected to pay for it.

Don Garlock, Neenah planning committee chairman for the Chamber of Commerce, urged the council to leave the parking lot at Walnut street and Doty avenue untouched, to provide more free off-street parking, and to build the station on some alternative site, preferably one at Church and Franklin streets for which the chamber has already obtained options.

'Kill Options' Garlock contended that if one municipal building were built on the Walnut-Doty site, ished or remained stationary it would automatically kill any business development in that area.

Ald. Leonard Hedberg and Warren Sanders and Mayor Chester Bell each noted that the Walnut - Doty lot, as well as other free lots in the downtown area, are nearly full long before the stores open in the morning, indicating that they were being used by business personnel rather than shoppers. These lots were purchased through parking meter revenues.

Garlock said that this only points up the fact that the city is short of parking space.

Doubts Propriety

Bell said the meter revenues are "in effect, a tax on the people who leave cars on the street" and added, "I doubt very emphatically the propriety, let alone the necessity, of the public providing free parking for those who drive to work and leave their cars all day."

"The trouble is," the mayor declared, "that many people feel the city has an obligation to provide free off-street parking. It is also for the shrewd businessman to provide parking."

Garlock said that most Neenah businessmen didn't have enough money to buy land for parking.

100 Sign Petition

He also presented a petition, from 100 merchants urging the Walnut - Doty land be left as parking lots and the police station be built at Church and Franklin. Garlock said the petition represented a strong majority of the businessmen, but Ald. Carl Coenen said a merchant had told him that many downtown businessmen favored the Walnut-Doty site for the station.

Sanders suggested that since the people who put money in the meters (the shoppers) are not the same ones who use the parking lots (the business personnel), the city meter the lots. "This way we would determine exactly what our parking problem is and at the same time get more money to buy more lots."

Station Prime Concern

Bell said that the prime concern of the council was to build a police station and that this couldn't be delayed while the city "drifts aimlessly while we fumble toward a more perfect (parking problem) solution."

Bell said that the city's choice of a station site would be made much simpler if a businessman or group were to buy part of the Walnut-Doty land for a parking lot. Regents Vote Acceptance of Observatory

Approve Gift of Oshkosh Couple To State College

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The board of regents of state colleges today accepted the gift of the widely-known Buckstaff Astronomical observatory at Oshkosh, subject to the later approval of the attorney general's office and the state emergency board.

The property, valued at about $48,000, was offered to the state a month ago as a gift by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buckstaff, who attached a number of reservations to the offer.

The regents said they want to be completely certain that the reservations they approved are not in contradiction of state policy.

Conditions Listed

Among the conditions suggested by the donors were that they would have the right to occupy the property during their lifetimes and that Buckstaff should continue to function as director of the observatory after its transfer to the state college at Oshkosh for educational use.

The donors also asked the regents, in return for the gift, to add instruction in astronomy and related subjects to the curriculum of the college. The college administration enthusiastically approved the gift, and asked the regents to accept it.

Jays Tackle Shawano High In 1958 Mid-Eastern Debut

Both Clubs Bid for First Wins of Infant Campaign

Menasha — Menasha's Bluejays will begin their quest for Mid-Eastern conference football honors at 8 o'clock Friday night at Shawano.

Both clubs will be bidding for their initial victories of the young campaign. Each fell by two touchdowns to their non-conference opponents, Menasha 12-0 to Appleton and Shawano by a 19-6 score to Merrill.

In Shawano, the Jays are bumping into a team which has had poor success the last half decade or so. Last year it closed the campaign with a 2-5 conference mark. The pair of victories was one more

Winneconne Seeks Second Little 9 Win

Faces Unbeaten Wrightstown in Friday Encounter

Winneconne — Victorious 26-13 over Shiocton in its opener last Friday, Winneconne will try to add another Little Nine conference triumph when it travels to Wrightstown for a 2 o'clock game Friday afternoon.

Wrightstown got off on the right foot by defeating a favored Omro team 14-0 in its initial outing.

The Wolves came up with a good attack against Shiocton, paced by the running of Doug Korn, Ron Mueller and Bryce Schumde and the passing of the latter two.

Although the Wolves chalked up a 12-0 triumph over the Tigers last year, the Brown county lads have always been a thorn in the side of Winneconne. They stopped a long Winneconne victory string with a 13-6 win in 1954 and the following year tied 6-6 for the only blot on the Wolves' record. In 1956, the Tigers romped to a 31-6 win.

Rockets Lose Dick Wilson For Season

Back Dislocates Shoulder During Tackling Drills

Neenah — Starting fullback Dick Wilson suffered a shoulder dislocation in practice earlier this week and will be lost to the squad for the remainder of the season, Coach Barlon Batterman told the Neenah Quarterback club at its meeting Wednesday night at the Recreation building.

Batterman reported that Wilson received the injury in a tackling drill. The junior letterman was one of the top offensive players on the club, was stationed at a vital corner backer spot on defense and did the punting.

In Friday's 9-6 win over Fond du Lac, Wilson got off a 45-yard punt from the end zone to get the Rockets out of danger in one of the key plays of the game.

Sophomores to Play

The coach pointed out that sophomore Bill Fahrenkrug will play fullback on offense and another second year student, Jim Sauby, will hold down his defensive spot.

Batterman declared that the Rockets made many mistakes in the Fond du Lac game but Fondy didn't capitalize on them. He pointed out that the defense did a good job but the offense bogged down. Fond du Lac only completed four of 16 passes on the Rocket defenders.

The club is making definite strides this week, the coach said, adding that the win was like a medicine for them.

Fine Potential

Turning to Kimberly, Saturday's foe, Batterman declared that it has fine potential, that any team with a good quarterback and two good ends is bound to be tough.

President Gale Woelffer announced that the Oct. 4 game against Two Rivers will be parents day. Harold Koerwitz will be in charge.

Woelffer reported that the membership drive is underway, chairmanned by Art Jackson. Stan Metz will be in charge of the parents membership drive. Directors, at a recent meeting, voted to lower their dues from $2 to $1.

Next week's meeting will be held at 7:30 Wednesday night at the Whiting boathouse. Films of the Kimberly-Neenah game will be shown.

$400,000 in Bonds OK'd for Waterworks

To be Repaid With Annual Tax Monies

Neenah — Final authorization for the sale of up to $400,000 worth of general obligation bonds to finance proposed water plant expansion was given by the city council Wednesday night.

The bonds will be sold along with $95,000 worth of bonds for building and equipping the new southwest side fire substation, which were authorized last March 19.

The three new water filters and enlarged settling basin are to be financed by general obligation bonds because the city expects to get a lower interest rate this way than would be possible with mortgage revenue bonds, City Clerk R. V. Hauser said.

The general obligation bonds are to be paid off with tax money, and are backed by the city's credit. The mortgage revenue bonds would have put a first mortgage on the plant extension itself and would have had to be paid off with water department earnings.

Study Fee System

In other action the council authorized the mayor to appoint a committee to study and consider changing the city's present policy of charging $300 per acre for land annexed to the city. The committee is to include the mayor, city clerk, director of public works, city attorney, two aldermen and one layman.

Mayor Chester Bell said that the fee system had not worked well and that certain property owners who wanted to enter the city were unable to do so because of the money involved.

Aldermen also authorized the purchase of a $225 vision testing machine for the city nurse, and the installation of four mercury vapor street lights at the intersection of W. Cecil street and Highway 41, at an annual service cost of $320 per year.

Delete Sidewalks

Aldermen changed a previous resolution to eliminate new sidewalk installation on the east side of Betty avenue and the south sides of Wilson, Roosevelt and McKinley streets in the Sixth ward. The earlier action was to install sidewalks on both sides of those streets.

New sidewalks were authorized for the west side of Stevens street, but were postponed for the east side of

Walbrun's 577 Tops in Uptown Play

Menasha — Pete Schmalz chalked up a 232 game and Hillard Walbrun had a 577 series in the Uptown Commercial Bowling league Wednesday night at Mid-Town.

Schmalz closed with a 555 series and Walbrun had a 201 single in his best set.

Art Brazee bowled 203-538, Mickey Reiter 533, Harold Walsh 204-528, and Carl Forslund and Bob Diehl 206.

Blohm Hardware hit a 942 game and Wanserski Grocery had a 2,512 series for the peak team efforts.

Red Owl and Friendly Bar are deadlocked for first place with 6-3 records. Three other clubs have 5-4 marks.

Rotary Speaker

Menasha — Norman Whitford, Oshkosh, children's case worker supervisor of the Winnebago county department of public welfare, spoke on juvenile delinquency at a Menasha Rotary club meeting Wednesday. Dr. Robert Falkner was program chairman.

Reed street between Washington avenue and Division street, and the north side of Division between Reed and Congress streets.

An ordinance to prohibit parking on the east side of S. Park avenue along the baseball field was passed.

Before adjourning the council confirmed the mayor's appointment of Miss Helen Alfieri, 117 State street, to the Neenah-Menasha Relief group to replace Mrs. Hilda Larson, who has left the city.

Church to Add School Wing

Bethel Lutheran Members Will Do Construction Work

Menasha — Members of Bethel Lutheran church will build an addition to their parish school, just as in the past they built the school and did much of the construction work on the church itself.

The Rev. Arnold W. Tiefel, pastor, said today the members recently voted to build a 78 by 66 foot addition to the school. The addition will include two classrooms and an all-purpose room which may be converted into one or two additional classrooms should the need arise.

McMahon Engineering company of Menasha has been engaged to prepare the working plans which are expected by sometime next week. It is hoped to begin work within a month and to have the classrooms ready by next fall.

The present school wing with offices and lavatory was built by the congregation members in 1954-55 and the costs of the church building was halved by members furnishing their services for the construction, working under the direction of a general contractor, Pastor Tiefel said.

Captain's Bars Were Pinned on Harold Marx, Menasha, right, by Lt. Col. Le Roy Danielson, Waupaca, battalion commander in a ceremony at company I's drill Tuesday night. Marx is commander of company I.

Township Posts Republican township committeemen elected were Mrs. Ruth Murray in town of Oshkosh, John Schindler in town of Menasha first precinct, Earl Hughes in town of Neenah, Max Carpenter in town of Rushford, J. F. Shea in town of Utica, B. F. Zimmerman in town of Winneconne and B. H. Bockin in the village of Winneconne.

Refutes Objections to Plant Safety Programs

Menasha — Industrial division of the Twin City Safety council was given four arguments disputing objections to safety programs at its dinner meeting at Germania hall Wednesday night.

Speaking to the group was Thomas Cleland, Chicago, director of industrial relations and safety of the Fibre Box association and a former government labor mediator.

One of the arguments raised against safety programs in industries was that top management is not concerned with safety. If this is the case, then top management must be presented with facts and figures about accidents even if it takes several years to win your point, he declared, but don't militate them against safety, he warned.

Second argument was that the plant is too small to have a safety director or program. People want to identify themselves with a spirit and an effort and they want their plant to be a safe one no matter how large or small the plant may be. They have a pride in a safe plant, he stressed.

"Can't Save Money?" As for the argument that you can't save any money on safety and that it might cost more than the extra insurance costs, Cleland said you can't always save on direct safety but consider the number of near accidents that almost happen. Safety programs frequently have led to insurance companies returning money to the company.

The fourth objection was that the people don't care about safety. You cannot give up on them even though they seem to be unresponsive, he advised.

Membership in the "Wise Owl club," an organization of over 14,000 persons who have saved an eye through a safe practice, was presented to Bert Arfstrom, a working foreman at Marathon division. A drill broke at work and the broken piece flew up into his face. Had he not been wearing safety glasses he would have lost an eye because one lens of the safety glasses was shattered but did not fall out of the frame.

Sewing Course

Milton Berle Returns to TV In Oct. 8 Show

Comedian to Do Half-Hour Stint; Letters Did It

New York — For two years various people have been urging Milton Berle to return to television on a regular basis.

For two years Berle has been saying that an hour a week is too much.

Then, after he convulsed a national audience at the Emmy awards presentations and appeared in a straight dramatic role several months ago, something interesting happened.

Public began urging him to come back. Thousands of letters poured in, saying in effect, "We want Berle."

So Milton Berle will return to weekly television Oct. 8.

Berle with a half-hour show, which he says, has "a no-format format." He comes back a far more relaxed man than the comedian who quit television two years ago, vowing never to return.

"Nothing is going to bother me," he says. "All I'm going to do is try to do the best I can. All I care is that the public be pleased."

Father, Son Actors To Make First Stage Appearance Together

New York — The two Jason Robards plan their first acting appearance together on Broadway this season in "The Disenchanted."

In it, the son will be starred and his father will be featured.

The elder Robards retired about 10 years ago when he became blind, but a series of operations restored his sight and he resumed work last year in television.

Jason Robards, Jr., distinguished himself in initial White Way assignment two seasons ago in "Long Day's Journey Into Night," this summer won kudos at the Stratford, Ont., Shakespeare festival.

"Nothing is going to bother me," he says. "All I'm going to do is try to do the best I can. All I care is that the public be pleased."

Phonographs

With Exclusive BALANCED LISTENING Control

Now, achieve living realism with Columbia's Stereophonic Phonographs. Sit anywhere within the listening area and Columbia's exclusive BALANCED LISTENING Control puts you in the very center of sound. The twist of a single dial increases volume in one speaker unit as it automatically—and in direct proportion—decreases volume in the other. Important to the decorative scheme is the freedom to place the stereophonic units anywhere and also to change such placement without sacrificing the complete, realistic balance of sound available through Columbia Stereophonic Phonographs.

Exquisite
DESIGN AND STEREO TOO

Twenty watts maximum power! Five controls including the Columbia BALANCED LISTENING control. Dual controls for dual amplifier. Four speakers, Columbia C-D* Stereophonic Cartridge with diamond stylus. Add low-cost remote speaker for full stereophonic operation. AM-FM radio may be added. Fine hand-rubbed veneers of mahogany, blonde mahogany or walnut.

This is a Tentative Plan for the development of Plamann park, the county's recreational area near Apple Creek, just west of County Trunks E and EE. The shaded areas are portions which may be planted in trees. The existing wooded area is marked. The present entrance to the park is from the town road at the lower right leading to the picnic area. There are several picnic tables there now. Plans call for a earth dam across a small creek in the lower left center to form the lake shown. None of the sport fields has been developed. The plan was made from several developed by University of Wisconsin students and their professor in landscape architecture.

Ike's Talk Clears Air on Soviet Strategy to Win Without Fight

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York—President Eisenhower's speech on Quemoy and Matsu was like a breath of fresh air in a fetid chamber. No more appeasement! No more acceptance of bullying! No more fear of an enemy that is stronger than the mouth from which he utters a constant stream of falsehood.

General James Gavin made the following observation on this subject in his book, "War and Peace in the Space Age": "If we are to believe the statements made by the Soviet leaders, from Lenin to Khrushchev, then we are at war now. If this is the case, and I believe that it is, the Soviets are far beyond the planning stage in their strategy. They are in the field of application. Of course, planning goes on concurrently in anticipation of forthcoming events. But the Soviets have a strategy plan in execution today, the object of which is to weaken the West psychologically, economically and politically that battle will be unnecessary. . . .

That is the essence of the situation. Khrushchev might have written a book on how to win a war without fighting. For that is what he has been trying to do since he took over the control of the Soviet state. Unscrupulous, Astute

Most of Stalin's ingenuity had been expended in bringing together the pieces of czaristic Russia, in forming a system of government that would operate at home and abroad without a constant theoretical debate, and in developing a heavy industry to be able to fight wars and to compete with Western nations.

Stalin avoided a direct conflict with the United States from whom he accepted $11,000,000,000 in aid. He set up standards of co-operation during World War II which were unique and far from satisfactory, but they continued to be proper. Stalin was both cute and astute and as unscrupulous as a Talleyrand.

Khrushchev is a rough-neck who covers a fierce brutality by an urbane manner. Although Ukrainians deny that he is one of them, for which no one can blame them, he was born close enough to the Ukraine and he worked his younger years in the Ukraine, so that he has taken on the gay facade of these people, who like to sing and dance and who are among the most cheerful of Slavs. This facade stands Khrushchev in good stead, particularly in meeting Westerners who are surprised by his smiling face and his jokes. Most of those who encounter him had never before come across Russians other than the dour, cold, heavy-handed diplomats who look as though they cursed their mothers for having given birth to them. They are intrigued by his gay manner.

Takes Risks

Khrushchev takes risks that Stalin avoided and the greatest of these risks is war with the United States. Stalin would never have forced such a pacifistic man as President Eisenhower to deliver a war address such as that of last Thursday. Khrushchev does risk it, however, because he has no sense of security in the Soviet state.

"The communist world must for its own safety be a commonwealth in which, while issues are hammered out in congresses and in a constant visit to and fro, final authority has to rest in the Kremlin. Khrushchev's chief concern has been Mao Tze-tung, an extreme Stalinist who in the early 1920's fought the Trotskyist element that established the Chinese communist party under the leadership of Chen Tu-shui, and who steadily and regularly has adhered to the Stalinist line through all the changes and vicissitudes of 40 years of the communist revolution.

Flanked By Mao, Tito

With the right deviationist, Tito, on one flank and the Stalinist, Mao, on the other, Khrushchev has not had an easy time. Mao is Khrushchev's superior intellectually; he is probably the most correct Marxist theoretician in the world today. Khrushchev cannot afford Mao's opposition because it would undermine his influence among communist intellectuals not only among the satellites and neutrals but even within Soviet Russia.

Therefore, Khrushchev must pursue Mao's wish which is to be admitted into the United Nations as China. To accomplish this, Khrushchev risks war with the United States.

Stalin always assumed that time was in Soviet Russia's favor. Also Stalin's prestige, while he lived, was so enormous that Mao only grew as a fungus upon the growth of Stalin.

Khrushchev is not in such a position. Therefore he must be constantly at war — but he tries to make it his kind of war.

Packer Memories

Michalske Recalls 80-Yard Run Against Bears as His Top Thrill

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Picking Mike Michalske's greatest game is, even for Mike, like searching for a wisp of hay in a stack of needles.

Mike was not only the Packers' greatest guard, he was — and is still considered — the greatest guard in 40 years of organized professional football. He had "football sense" to go with the necessary physical equipment, could think on his feet and at the same time, hit like a Sherman tank. He didn't always play according to the book, but he usually managed to be where he was most needed.

His performance was so consistently good that only an extraordinary incident can separate one game from the rest — such as the day in Chicago when he ran an intercepted forward pass 80 yards for the touchdown that beat the Bears, 6-2.

It wasn't Nagurski

Mike recalls the game, played Nov. 1, 1931, vividly, although for a different reason than the fact he won it.

As he pounded down the field, he thought Bronko Nagurski was chasing him and admits it was the only time in his life he was really scared. Fun-

Michalske's interception — one of those cases where he was doing the unorthodox but popping up in the right spot at the right time — came in the second period of one of the most bruising, evenly matched Packer-Bear donnybrooks in years. It unexpectedly turned the tide of a smashing, standoff battle.

Through the first quarter and well into the second neither team had been able to make any headway against the other. Then Nagurski and "Red" Grange began to find a little running room, and the Bears moved steadily to the Packer 26-yard line.

Quarterback Carl Brumbaugh faded to pass. Cal Hubbard burst through the cup and bore down on him. "Brumby" was no patty-waist, but the sight of an unchecked Hubbard closing in fast was something to unnerve even a Nagurski. Brumbaugh tried to get rid of the ball and threw wildly toward the sideline.

Michalske apparently sensed the play, pulled out of the line and headed for the sidelines, too. The ball sailed directly into his hands and he headed down an open field. He might not have made it, though, if it hadn't been for the prompt reaction of several other Packers.

Flattens Another

Dick Stahlman cut down one threatening Bear. Hubbard, having done in Brumbaugh, got up and flattened another. Milt Gantenbein swung in behind Michalske to cover his rear, meanwhile keeping an eye on Link Lyman.

It was the latter, not "The Bronk" as Mike has always thought, who gave chase. Lyman cut across at an angle, gradually closing in. At the Bear 15, however, Gantenbein made his move and Michalske lumbered unhindered into the end zone for the game's only touchdown.

The Bear score came early in the third period when "Red" Dunn caught a punt on the Packer 2 and retreated behind the goal line in a vain effort to elude Luke Johnson and Garland Grange, who had him boxed in. He didn't make it, and the two charging ends grassed him in the end zone for a safety.

Although small for a lineman—Mike played guard at only 210—Mike made up for lack of size with his speed, brains and uncanny ability to out-guess the opposition.

He didn't make much of an impression on a anyone but "Curly" Lambeau in his first two years with the New York Yankees in 1927-28, but reached his peak with the 1929 Packers and stayed there until he called it quits after 1937. Twice, in 1931 and 1935, he was named All-League guard.

Now living in Tyler, Texas, Michalske has been involved in football all his life as player, scout, coach and athletic director. He didn't say what he's doing now except that he's still "part of football."

Expected to be Ready for World Series

St. Louis — Injuries continued to haunt the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night as three cripples reported for duty and only two of them managed to last through the evening.

Joey Jay was the one off and on the injury list in less than two innings.

The young right-hander, looked to for World Series support, finally had licked a sore right elbow and was assigned a relief chore to get him working under fire again.

The burly 22-year-old hurler faced five batters, fanned the first two, walked the third and turned the fourth and fifth into easy outs. But it was the last out and put him out of action, at least for a few days.

Gets the Runner

He slapped down a liner by Irv Noren in time to get the runner at first. But in fielding the smash Jay suffered a chip fracture on the ring finger of his left hand.

"The injury is not serious," said authorities at Jewish Community hospital where he was examined. He probably will miss one pitching turn, but will be able to play in the series.

Also returning to the lineup was Wes Covington who socked a double and a single, drove in one run and scored another. But his ailing knee and pulled muscle kept him from doing much more than walking fast.

"Is there any improvement?" he asked. "You saw how I ran."

Told he had a strong walk, the outfielder grinned and answered:

"Yeah, and tomorrow I'll walk the same way."

The third casualty up and ready again is Red Schoendienst who has been sidelined with a cold.

Wilmer Seifert Jars 589 Farmer Couples Trio

Wilmer Seifert unloaded a 589 threesome to lead the way in the opening edition of Farm Couples league bowling.

Lorna Pekarske's 523 paced the latest action in the Twelve Corners Women's wheel.

Janet Runge Thumps 609 Honor Aggregate

Sherwood's Janet Runge (both), socked four more strikes and had another 1-pin series Tuesday night in the Sherwood Women's league at Miller's Bowling bar.

It was the second National Honor count in two years for a Miss Runge who has posted a half dozen plus-600 efforts in her 10 years of bowling. She's a member of a family of good bowlers — mother Le-one, father Wilmer and brother Dennis.

Once Rolled 662

In her big threesome she opened with a 170 score, then a bustling 257 and finished with a 182. In the middle game, Miss Runge flattened four strikes, then left single pins standing on her first ball in both the fifth day night was Lois Wittman's and sixth frames (sparing) 531.

Giants Release Ben Agajanian

New York — The New York Giants Wednesday announced the release of veteran kicking specialist Ben Agajanian.

Acquisition of George "Pat" Summerall, defensive end and kicking expert, in a recent trade with the Chicago Cardinals, has made the 39-year-old Agajanian expendable, the Giants said.

Agajanian, third highest scorer in Giant history, spent 10 years in professional football, six with the Giants. During those six years he scored 295 points. He holds all the club's kicking records.

Willie Hartack Joins Elite '2,000 Club'

By The Associated Press

Six weeks on the sidelines with a broken leg ruined Willie Hartack's chances of winning his fourth straight riding title. But the 26-year-old veteran of the saddle has the distinction of reaching one of his goals. He joined the exclusive 2,000-club.

Hartack, who won the 1955 jockey crown with 417 victories, the '56 title with 347 and the '57 championship with 341, reached the 2,000 mark Wednesday when he piloted Herald Wind to victory in the fifth race at Atlantic City.

All UW's Tickets for OSU Game are Sold

Madison — All tickets allotted the University of Wisconsin athletic ticket office for the October 25 Wisconsin-Ohio State football game at Columbus, Ohio, have been sold. Athletic Ticket Sales Manager Oscar C. Damman announced.

However, tickets for other Wisconsin road games: at Miami, Florida, Sept. 26; Michigan State, Nov. 1; and Illinois on Nov. 15, are still available, and may be ordered from the athletic ticket office, 1440 Monroe street. Damman also pointed out that tickets for 1958 Wisconsin home games are still available.

Winneconne and Wrightstown — both victorious in their opening Little Nine conference grid games last weekend — clash Friday night at Wrightstown in this week's feature contest.

Readsville, which dumped Brillion in a non-league contest last weekend, opens its Little Nine campaign at Denmark tonight.

Hortonville — co-owner of 1957 circuit honors with Freedom, Readsville and Winneconne — starts 1958 league play at Freedom Friday. The Polar Bears lost their opener to Stevens Point Pacelli while the Irish were blanking Denmark, 13-0.

Friday's final contest pairs Shiocton and Omro, losers of their initial league starts. Winneconne shaded the Chiefs, 26-13. Omro lost to Wrightstown, 14-0.

Jordan Upsets Ortega in 10-Rounder

Portland, Ore. — Lightweight Don Jordan, punching precisely and accurately, won an upset, 10-round split decision over Gaspar Ortega Wednesday night.

Jordan weighed 141½, Ortega 145½.

"He's strong and durable, but all his punches are wide, looping punches," said Jordan after beating the second-ranked contender for the welterweight title.

Jordan, ranked sixth among lightweights by the National Boxing association, carried the fight to Ortega in the first round, but after that mainly was content to counterpunch. There were no knockdowns.

In the fourth, Jordan landed a low blow. Ortega's knee bent nearly to the canvas, but he didn't go down.

Late-Spurting Tigers Dust Off Yanks, 5-2

By The Associated Press

Detroit is third in American league standings, but they're still the tail-end Tigers, waiting until the pennant is gone before making a season-end sprint for a share of the World Series loot.

It's an old habit with the Tigers. And it has cost two managers—Bucky Harris and Jack Tighe—their jobs.

In 1936, the Tigers roared through the last weeks and finished fifth.

The Tigers finished fourth in 1957, but they had to win on the final day to do it.

6th Straight Win

When their 1958 start indicated something worse, Tighe was ousted and Bill Norman took over an eighth-place club June 10.

The Tigers moved into third last weekend and built a 2-game hold on the spot with a 5-2 victory over the Yankees Wednesday. It was their sixth straight win. Again the Tigers are the only team to beat the Yankees for the season, with lost five straight. Rookie Bill "12-10" bulge, just as in 1956, Monbouquette (3-4) won the Boston stayed tied for fourth with idle Cleveland by ed an eight-game slump on splitting a doubleheader at home by Bill Renna, Don Kansas City. The A's won the Buddin and Frank Malone off opener, 6-3, then lost, 4-2. Rain Ned Garver (12-11).

The Tigers got the clincher the hard way. They beat 21-game winner Bob Turley with the help of light-swinging Ren0 Bertoia, whose fifth and sixth homers counted their first three runs.

Jim Bunning (13-10), last year's 20-game winner, gave up a third-inning, 2-run homer by Mickey Mantle, his forty-first.

Williams lost ground to Boston teammate Pete Runnels in the bat race. Both homered in the opener, but Runnels pushed his leading average to .322 with 4-for-8 in the pair. Williams, sitting out the second game, was 2-for-4 for a second best .318. Kansas City's Bob Cerv was 2-for-8, tying Cleveland's Vic Power and Detroit's injured Harvey Kuenn for third at .315.

Harry Chitt's grand slam won the opener for the A's against the Yankees (8-7) against the Yankees (12-8), who has championships for the season, with lost five straight. Duren-Houk Fight Rumors are Denied

Story of 'Bloody Battle' Is 'Newspaper Bunk,' Says Stengel

BY DAVE DILES
Detroit — Casey Stengel says his New York Yankees are just normal, healthy, red-blooded, playful American boys.

They do not fight among themselves, he says, and there have been no fights between players and coaches. The whole squad, says Stengel, is saving its strength for the Milwaukee Braves and the World Series.

The New York Post said Wednesday that Coach Ralph Houk and relief ace Ryne

Kramer and Hank Bullough. The four tackle possibilities can go at guard—Forest Gregg, Norm Masters, Ollie Spencer and Jim Temp. Defensive tackles such as Dave Hanner or Ken Gray can also go on offense.

The Packers aren't expected to open the book, as it were, against the Cardinals but sustained drives and a few touchdowns will be most welcome. The Packers plan to open said book the following Sunday against the Bears.

Knafele May Play

With the exception of Tom Bettis and Gary Knafele, the Packers will be in top-flight physical condition Saturday. And Knafele might even get in some playing. McLean wants the entire crew ready for the league opener.

Big Howie Ferguson and little Jim Shanley are only two yards apart in the ground-gaining department, but the averages are considerably different.

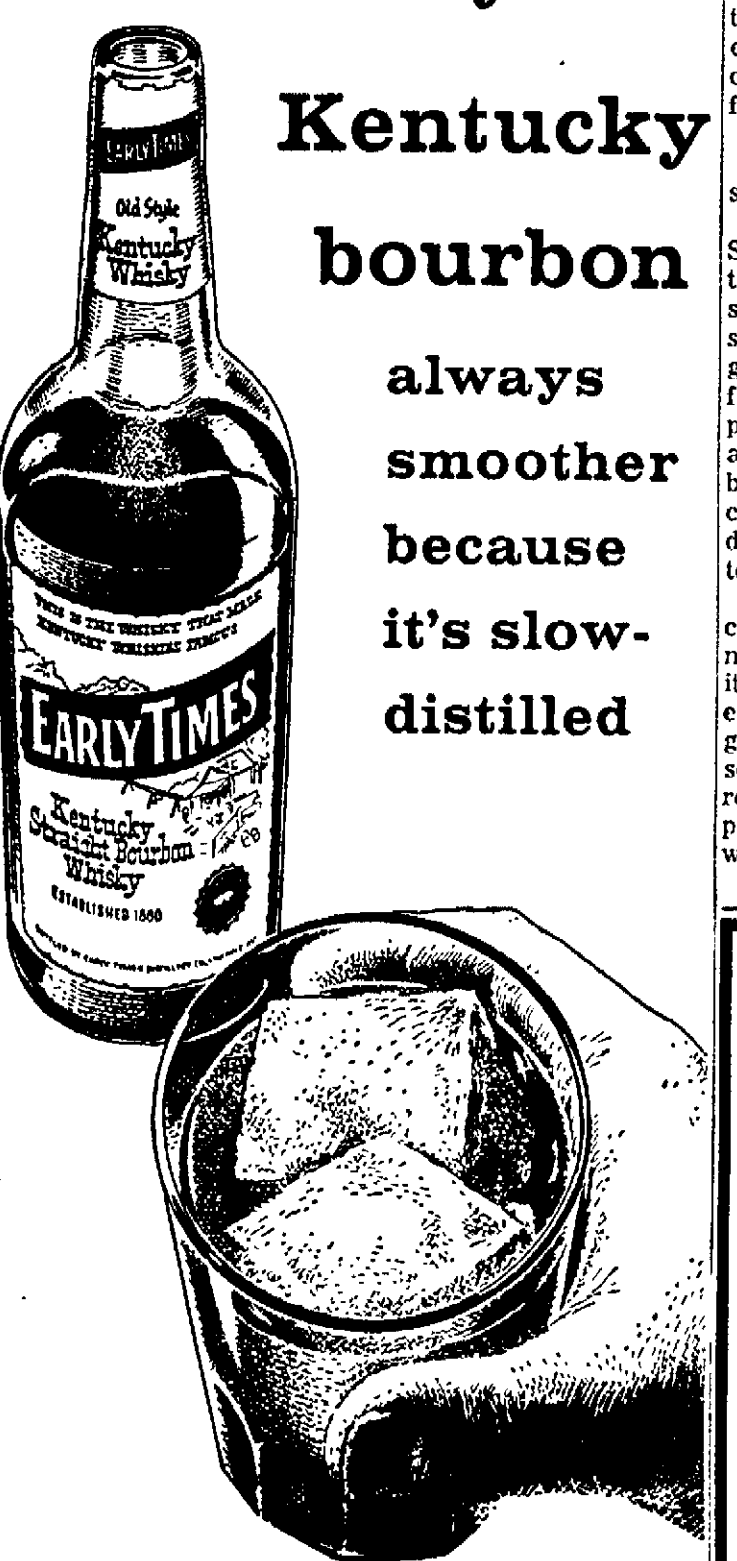

Fergie raced 31 times for 102 yards and a 3-plus average against Shanley's 17 for 100 and almost-6. Paul Hornung who didn't play in Boston has 66 yards in 27 attempts.

Billy Howton and Max McGee are running 1-2 in the pass catching department with 13 and 10 respectively. Both were guilty of dropping several passes against the Redskins last Saturday night.

Bold Gamble Wins Few Gripes at CC's Hearing on Wisconsin's Fisheries Program

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The Wisconsin Conservation commission this week gambled boldly and apparently won.

It held its widely publicized public hearing to hear public gripes about the state fisheries program, without hearing many.

A small crowd of private citizens and sportsmen's club representatives turned out for the meeting which was called because one of the veteran members of the commission had publicly said he has heard complaints about the fish management program that he couldn't answer.

Among them were known friends and supporters of the Conservation department, evidently prepared to plead its case. But when no critical voices appeared, only a handful of the friendly backers spoke, and with brevity.

Apparently Nervous

But department staff officers were apparently nervous and apprehensive as they reviewed their work in defensive tones.

They laboriously explained the elementary facts of their programs, most of which had been authorized in detail by the Commission, and which the commissioners might be supposed to know intimately.

But the results were such as should have brought smiles of relief to the most worried officer in the fisheries service.

The only mildly critical words spoken during a long afternoon of talk came from a member of the commission. Arthur MacArthur of Janesville mildly remonstrated that some of the fisheries administrators and biologists seemed to be interested in "discrediting" fish stocking as a fish management method.

Give Highlights

Highlights of the long session:

1. The declaration by E. W. Schneberger, fisheries chief, that the rapid growth of the state's population and the destruction of natural fishing grounds have reduced sports fish harvests, that fishing will probably continue to deteriorate because of those causes, but that his division can counteract such trends to a degree if it had more money to spend.
2. A resolution by the Wisconsin Federation of Sportsmen's clubs denouncing what it called "political interference" in the fisheries program, an apparent swipe at some legislators who have recently lambasted some phases of the department's work and policies.
3. A showing that the trout

World Series Ticket Mail Again Heavy

Milwaukee — Pennant fever, an easy victor over Asian flu in the battle for Milwaukee Braves' fans last year, had the patient all to itself Wednesday and there was a big reaction as World Series ticket applications went into the mail.

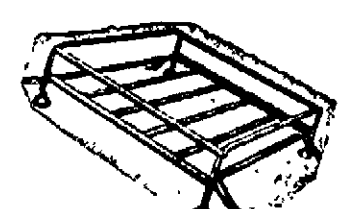

The recurrence was marked by a quickening of the pulse, a slight increase in temperature, lots of excitement and bits of drama as the mailing got under way at 12:13 p.m.

Scene of the major deposit was at the main post office on Wisconsin avenue, where special mail boxes were pressed into use. They were supposed to open at 12:30, but when the lines continued to grow despite a light rain, post office officials decided on an early start.

Other special boxes were set up in other sections of Wisconsin to insure outstate residents a chance at the tickets.

Hutchinson Is Fired by Cards

Terry Moore and Al Hollingsworth. Hack agreed to manage the Redbirds until the end of the season. Then he's on his way out of the Cardinal organization, as is Moore. Hollingsworth might be offered another job in the system.

The only stumbling block in the way of Hemus' selection appeared to be terms the Philadelphia Phils might want for him. At second base for the Phillies, he has been one of the few live wires on that team.

Eddie Stanky, now a coach with the Cleveland Indians, will be with the Cardinals next year. He'll act as a "baseball brain," with a final say on trades, bonus players and rookies.

Favored for a pitching coach is Eddie Lopat. Next in line is Sal Maglie. The Cardinals would have to obtain a release of Lopat from the New York Yankees, whose Richmond farm he manages. If he should turn down the job, Maglie can switch from Cardinal player to Cardinal coach.

Hutchinson won't be out of a job very long if he doesn't want to be. Last night he attended the Cardinals game against the Milwaukee Braves, which the Cards won 5-3, with Dewey Soriano, general manager of the Seattle club.

Soriano, a long-time friend of Hutchinson's, said, "I've made Hutch such a good offer he'll have a hard time turning it down."

Green socked a long fly to center. Bill Bruton moved back under it, but turned the wrong way and the ball fell for a triple. Boyer scoring. After Wally Moon walked, Eddie Kasko singled Green home.

The plays by Mantilla and Bruton were not scored as errors and all five Card runs were earned, and charged to Spahn.

The Braves tied it in the fourth as Hank Aaron beat out a high chopper with one away. Wes Covington's double sent him romping home. Wes followed on Frank Torre's double.

The Braves didn't get another good opportunity until the ninth, but the effort fell short.

Covington started it with a single and left when Joe Kippe went in to run for him. Torre singled and Del Crandall did the same, sending Koppe home and Jackson to the shower.

Brosnan got Mantilla on a sacrifice and then struck out the pinch-batting Joe Adcock and Bruton to end the game, and trim Milwaukee's lead over the idle second-place Pittsburgh Pirates to 5 1/2 games.

In tonight's season finale, between the clubs, Bob Rush, 9-8, and Sam Jones, 13-11, will oppose each other.

MU's Starting Lineup Has Only 2 Seniors

Druze Names Club For Opener Against South Dakota State

Milwaukee — Coach Marquette's football coach Wednesday picked two seniors, six juniors and three sophomores to start in Saturday's season opener here against South Dakota State.

Hall Starts

The starting quarterback is Pete Hall, a 200-pound junior who passed up football his sophomore year in favor of basketball.

The other starting juniors are 208-pound fullback Frank Mestnik, ends Si Woods and Ron Dulak, tackle John Blyth and guard Lou Casto, who was converted from halfback.

Backs Nolan and Timmer likely would have been on the second string if injuries hadn't hampered juniors Jim Webster and Tim Zhulnik.

Coach Druze scheduled the last heavy pre-season drill for today. The team is slated to work out under the lights Friday evening.

Max Eggert Jars 580 Kegling Trio In Coated Loop

Max Eggert slapped a 580 threesome to pace kegling efforts in the Appleton Coated league at Hahn's Tuesday night. Another honor tally was Reg Reinke's 206.

Majel Sonnenleiner slapped a 500 threesome for honors in the Five-by-Eight league at Hahn's.

Frank Ivy Doesn't See Big Difference Between Canadian-U.S. Football

Minneapolis — Coach Frank Ivy will start biting his nails on fourth down instead of third this year. But he doesn't expect to find anything radically different in his switch back from Canadian to American pro football.

For four seasons a highly successful coach of the Edmonton Eskimos, the Oklahoman is now masterminding the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football league.

He sees nothing especially different between coaching in the NFL and Canada, except that he looks for a tougher time stopping enemy passes.

And, in Canada, there are three downs instead of the four we have in the U.S.

Big Campaign Issues Mapped By Democrats

Book Charges Lack of Leadership, Foreign Policy, Corruption

Washington —/P— Demo- cratic party strategists tab- ulate foreign policy, alleged lack of presidential leadership, "cor- ruption" and recession as big issues in this year's election campaigns.

They are listed in a Demo- cratic Fact Book, excerpts from which were published Wednesday in the Democratic Digest. The book is being dis- tributed to campaign workers and party candidates.

The book, published by the Democratic National com- mittee, says the Eisenhower-Nix- on administration in less than six years in office has brought the nation to the "worst re- cession since World War II at home, and to mortal danger of war and worldwide defeat abroad." It continues:

"It has done this by its fail- ure to give the nation leader- ship—a failure resulting in a surrender to Old Guard con- servative domestic, policies and outdated, unrealistic for- eign policies."

"Symbols of Corruption"

Under the headings "GOP Corruption in High Places," the campaign document says: "Sherman Adams, Bernard Goldfine and the vicuna coat are the symbols of the cor- ruption and influence seeking that has infested the Eisen- hower-Nixon administration."

"In addition, the adminis- tration has packed federal, in- dependent regulatory agencies with appointments of men from the very industries they are supposed to regulate."

Committee officials said the campaign book's references to during the Lebañón crisis and therefore no mention is made of the current trouble in the Formosa Strait.

"American foreign policy," it says, "has sunk to such a low that the U. S. must now rely upon brute force—such as sending American troops to Lebanon—to hold the world to- gether. Every friend lost for America is a victory for the Communists. The Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy has lost friends throughout the world by:

"Identifying itself with backward, discredited rulers in the Near East and Asia, while the Soviets have por- trayed themselves as friends of Arab and Asian peoples.

"Neglect of Latin America

"Neglect of the problems of our South American neighbors to the point where official American representatives are stoned and booed on trips there."

"Posing as a nation that is heedless of the value of human life by continuing the testing of large hydrogen bombs."

The book says the reason these things have come about is "because President Eisen- hower has abandoned the leadership of the office of the president."

"He is serving out his term, without the energy or the will- erness to provide America with the leadership it needs. This leadership vacuum in the Re- publican administration is be- ing filled by the Old Guard of the GOP despite Eisenhower's proclamation of a new- era called 'Modern Republi- canism.'"

War Orphans Receive Aid For Education

About 125 young men and women in Wisconsin, includ- ing two from Outagamie coun- ty, are expected to enroll in schools this fall under the 2-year-old war orphans educa- tion program, Francis Her- sakker, county veterans serv- ice officer, reports.

The education program for sons and daughters of deces- sed war veterans became ef- fective in 1956.

War orphan students gener- ally are between 18 and 23 years old, Heesakker said.

They may receive up to 36 months of education, with the veterans administration pay- ing an allowance of up to $110 a month.

McDonald Given Union's Support

Atlantic City, N.J. —/P— The United Steelworkers lined up behind their president to- day in an apparent united front for next year's contract talks with the basic steel in- dustry.

David J. McDonald, whose leadership had been ques- tioned openly for more than a year, appeared in firm control of the 1,200,000 - member union now past the midway point of its ninth constitutional con- vention.

An opposing faction which polled almost a quarter of the 1957 national officers' election found itself with only about 15 of 3,500 delegates supporting it yesterday.

In the first three days of the 5-day convention, McDona- ld received an overwhelming vote of confidence and beat back on constitutional issues what now appears to be a small but highly vocal minor- ity.

Sauerkraut Wiener Barbecue Good Indoor-Outdoor Meal

BY FRANK KOHLER

Sauerkraut Wiener Bar-becue makes "a fine meal," Mrs. Harry M. House, Okla- homa City.

If it's warm out, eat it out doors in picnic style. If the weather turns cold, gather round the din- ing table.

Mix sauerkraut with bacon fat and caraway seed, stir and simmer 20 minutes. In a sepa- rate saucepan, mix catsup, parsley, brown sugar, onion and seasonings, stir, and sim- mer 20 minutes. Stir the win- ers into the sauce and simmer until heated through.

Spread the sauerkraut on a large heated platter, place the franks over, and pour the sauce over all. Mrs. House recommends potato salad, rye bread and a dish of assorted radishes, green onions, car- rot sticks and celery, or a toss- ed salad with this.

30-Minute Parking Law Fails to Pass

The city council Wednesday refused to pass an ordinance requiring a 30-minute time limit on parking along E. Wis- consin avenue at the south- east corner of the intersection with N. Oneida Street.

A lengthy debate indicated the ordinance will be revised to make it a 1-hour time limit, as requested by Aldermen Austin N. Tucker and Clarence Lautenschlaeger.

Mrs. J. C. Stillman told al- dermen the restriction was needed to provide customer parking for the building her family owns on the corner.

She said, park cars at the curb fronting the building from 6 o'clock in the morn- ing to 8 o'clock at night.

Costs Money

The practice, she said, has cost businesses money but could be alleviated if neigh- bors were "civic-minded and courteous."

Tucker questioned the short time limit, saying the police department told him the only other such short time restric- tion is at the post office. He said precedents of the past should not be ignored.

Ald. Robert Stumpf pointed out the time limit probably wouldn't be enforced anyway. He was ruled out of order when he repeated the obser- vation from his seat after a vote to refer the question back to committee carried, 13-to-7.

Lautenschlaeger said he'd like to see the time restriction uniform along the street, in- stead of in one location.

Voting against a delay were Aldermen Homer Malmstrom, Harvey Priebe, Sr., Thomas K. Schneider, Allan Sonkow- sky, Alvin Tews and Stumpf.

Suggests Labor Leaders Pay for '60 Convention

St. Louis —/P— A St. Louis labor leader proposed Tues- day night that the 1960 Demo- cratic national convention be brought to St. Louis with labor leaders here footing the bill.

Joseph Cousin, executive secretary - treasurer of the Building and Construction Trades council, made the sug- gestion at an AFL-CIO St. Louis Labor council meeting.

He said the convention would cost between $250,000 and $300,000 and suggested that $100,000 donations from each of the city's top 250 labor leaders would pay for it.

The council may act on the proposal at its next meeting.

19 Liberty Ships Go on Auction Block

Lee Hall, Va. —/P— Time has run out for 19 ships in the fleet of some 300 in the James river reserve fleet and they will go on the auction block.

They are Liberty ships which once were potent weapons in the war of supply for troops overseas. Others will be kept for use in a future national emergency and in the mean- time are used for storage of some 15 million bushels of grain.

Vote 38-Acre Annexation For Last Time

Annexation of the 38-acre Hansen - Bassett - Schaefer tract on the city's east limits was passed for the last time Wednesday by the common council.

The area will become part of the city officially 90 days after ordinance publication.

The tract is the last which will be annexed under the old state law providing for long waiting periods between start and end of annexation.

It is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Otto A. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bassett and Mr. and Mrs. Nick J. Schaefer.

The 20-acre Joseph H. Doer- flinger tract south of E. Hoover avenue, the 30-acre second high school site on E. John street just north of E. Calumet street and the 13.43-acre elementary school site on the west side of N. Elino street at W. Frances street official- ly became part of the city Sept. 7.

Pending annexation are the 39.91-acre industrial park on the far west side and the Per- cey Menning 36.26-acre place at the northwest corner of Highway 41 and N. Meade street, the old Fred Meade farm.

The city has received assur- ances from the Chicago and North Western Railroad com- pany that it will agree to an- nex a right-of-way strip that will permit annexation of the industrial park.

Menning's request will be considered by the board of public works.

This Blueberry Pudding Goes With Hard Sauce

"You can't improve on nature," an old friend of ours says every year. Dipping his hand into a bowl of the big beautiful cultivated blueberries, he will exclaim that nothing is better than the blues "all by themselves."

Any farmer could tell him that nature has been improved on — the cultivated blueberries are the result of thousands of crossbreeding experiments to produce the most delectable berry possible.

What he means, of course, is that the cultivated blueberries are so delicious unto themselves that they need no adornment. He's of the school that likes blueberries served simply.

But no man, including this one, would turn his back on a dish such as this Blueberry Pudding.

Blueberry Pudding
1 quart blueberries
1 cup flour
2 cups bread crumbs
2 cups hot milk
3 cup sugar
Wash berries and drain thoroughly. Sprinkle flour over berries, let stand one-half hour. Pour milk over crumbs, add sugar and blueberries. Put into greased baking dish, dot with butter, bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven, 350 degrees. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Underripe Pears

minutes in a moderate oven, 350 degrees. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Hard Sauce

1 cup butter
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon Angostura aromatic bitters
Cream the butter, add sugar gradually, and flavoring, adding more sugar if necessary.

Sub Launches First Missile

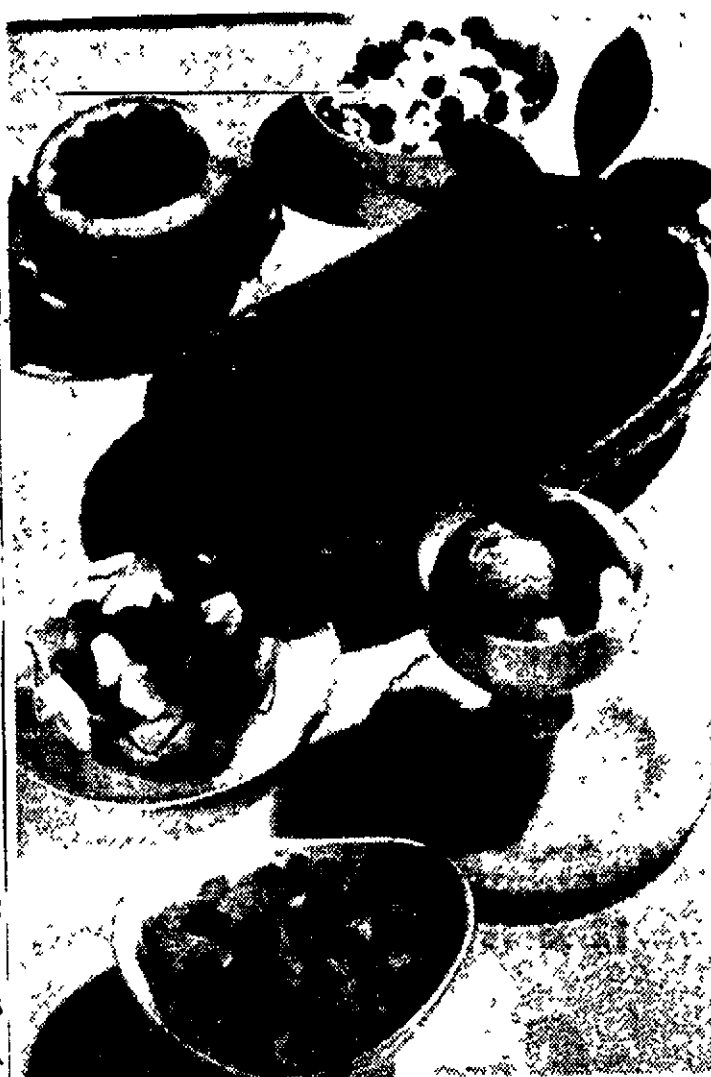

Regulus II Capable of Carrying Hydrogen Warhead 1,000 Miles

Point Mugu, Calif. —(AP)—A Regulus II missile—capable of carrying a hydrogen warhead—has been launched from a submarine for the first time.

The 57-foot long, 11-ton missile swooshed up from the submarine Grayback Tuesday and flew inland to Edwards Air Force base, about 80 miles away in southern California's Mojave desert.

The wheels of the missile failed to lower, however, and it skidded on its belly, caught fire and burned. Test models of the missile are equipped with wheels so they may be recovered after firing.

The Navy says this is the weapon that could be hurled from a sub surfacing off an enemy coast to strategic targets more than 1,000 miles inland. The Navy said Tuesday's flight was about 200 miles.

Dip out a Handful of the Luscious cultivated blues and eat them as is, with sour cream, in a melon half, in fruit salad or over cereal or ice cream.

Fired From Launcher

The 1,500 m. p. h. stubbed winged Regulus II was fired from a launcher just forward of the Grayback's conning tower. It was hurled skyward by a solid fuel booster rocket and turbojet engine. The booster rocket dropped into the ocean shortly after launching.

The 320-foot newly-commissioned Grayback was surfaced about a mile off the Point Mugu naval air missile test center. The missile headed seaward then soared into a long climbing turn, its flight monitored by supersonic Crusader fighters and ground control posts.

Dried Peaches

When you buy dried peaches you may be getting those from the freestone or clingstone fruit. One pound of the dried fruit represents six to seven pounds of fresh peaches.

Fresh Pears Can be Served Many Ways

Perhaps no other fruit offers so many different appeals to a fine palate as the pear. The shape is the one thing which is not duplicated by any other type of fruit. While the majority are green in color, the Bartlett's are golden — often with a pink blush. They are sweet and juicy. California furnished our early supply and the northwest fruit will be coming soon. If the pears are well ripened when we buy them they will need refrigeration to keep in the home kitchen. If not ready to eat, they should be held at room temperature. Some epicures believe the pear should be chilled before it is served, as the delicate flavor is injured by cold. If stored in the refrigerator, they may be removed an hour or two before mealtime. Many of us like the French custom of serving pears for dessert, accompanied by a fine mild cheese and French bread. They should be pared at the table with the aid of a fruit knife. If they are to be combined with other fruit for a dessert or salad, of course, the peel should be removed — but just before serving. Pears are generally served in their natural form. But if they are underripe they may be poached and flavored with spices or rum. Sometimes they are accompanied by a custard sauce. Poached Pears Select firm pears. Wash and pare. Arrange in saucepan, add two tablespoons sugar for each pear, and water to depth of one-half inch.

Pears may be used for a variety of desserts and salads. Pears may be studded with cloves if desired. Cover and let simmer over very low heat until pears can be pierced easily with toothpick. Serve hot or chilled with soft custard sauce, flavored with vanilla or rum. Molded Salad 1 package lime-flavored gelatin 1 cup hot water 1 pint cottage cheese

1 tablespoon finely chopped chives
Salad greens
4 fresh Bartlett pears
French dressing or lemon juice
Mint leaves or parsley
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Cool. Add cottage cheese, horseradish, and chives. Pour into salad mold and chill. When ready to serve, turn mold onto platter lined with salad greens. Halve pears and remove core. Dip cut surface in French dressing or lemon juice, and place at base of salad mold with sprigs of mint leaves or parsley in stem end. Yield: 8 servings.

Wrap Melons Well, Then Refrigerate

Keep Special Diets Out of Mealtime Conversations

BY EDITH M. BARBER
When there is a reducer or someone on a fat-free diet in the family, others who do not find it necessary or pleasant to adopt the prescribed routine are likely to suffer or at least complain. Actually, they should not be obliged to conform to a limited menu. The diet should not be made a conversation piece. This is not good for the family morale, and mealtime should not be devoted to a discussion of calories and allied topics. Many of the dishes allowed the dieter will be thoroughly enjoyed by others if they are not pronounced to be prepared especially in the interest of just one of the family. Almost everyone likes vegetable or fruit salads. There may be a choice of dressings. Fruit cups and desserts need not be avoided if a sugar substitute is used according to a tested recipe. The dessert pictured today is an example of this.

If any member of the family has an especially sweet tooth, a bowl of confectioners' sugar may be on the table for use, if desired. Crisp cookies or cake may be served also for his benefit. The dieter should be able to resist these, although they will be tempting.

GOP Leaders Face Chance of Fall Defeat

Pommerening Gives Warning in Issue Of Party Publication

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Republican campaign leaders are facing up to the possibility that the Republican party may have to fight to retain its long-time superiority of numbers in the state legislature in the elections in November.

Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, Milwaukee, chairman of a Republican assembly campaign committee, sounds the warning in a current publication of the Young Republican Federation of Wisconsin which has made legislative campaign work a major enterprise for the fall season.

"It would be foolish to ignore the fact that there are some marginal Republican districts," said the campaign committee chief.

Pommerening conceded no doubt, however, about the prospects for retaining a working majority of his party in the senate and state assembly, in contrast with the predictions from Democratic state headquarters.

Claim Win

Democrats claim that they will win control of both houses if they win the governorship this year. Privately they are encouraged to believe, according to party leaders, they may win control of the assembly because a relatively small swing of general voting in their favor would dislodge some of the Republican incumbents who won by relatively small margins of votes in recent years.

Pommerening counters the Democrats also have some marginal districts and that a stronger Republican effort this year may endanger some of the minority party legislators.

A simple majority in each house gives a party practical control. Under the rules a two-thirds majority permits easier control and more expeditious proceedings, through the ability of the majority party to suspend the house rules.

Reserve Names Training Officer

Air Reserve Maj. Warren F. Jarvis, 115 E. Elm street, Kimberly, has been appointed training officer of Appleton's Flight A, 9661st air force reserve squadron.

Jarvis, a reservist with 12 years' service, is a history teacher at the Kimberly High school.

Associate training officers are Capt. Thomas W. Busch, 2219 N. Erb street, and Capt.

Reginald N. Reinke, 1610 N. Clark street.

The appointments were announced by Lt. Col. Edward M. Adam, 1505 Oakcrest court, flight commander.

Adam also announced the reappointment of the following staff officers:

Maj. Harold B. Barker, 1315 Jarvis street, deputy commander and executive officer; Capt. William L. Seifert, 1724 E. Glendale avenue, adjutant and Maj. Lawrence J. Thein, 919 N. Rankin street, recruiting officer.

Avocado Soup Refreshing First Course

Cooled avocado soup makes a refreshing first course for a salad luncheon or buffet supper. Creamed with chicken bouillon and flour, it has a gentle flavor. A suggestion for serving with the soup are these crisp shredded wheat biscuits.

Crisp Nibblers
5 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon basil
Few drops Worcestershire sauce

24 spoon-size shredded wheat biscuits
Melt butter. Mix together celery seed, onion salt and basil together. Stir seasoning and Worcestershire sauce into butter. Add cereal and mix lightly until shredded wheat biscuits are coated with mixture. Continue to cook stirring occasionally, until biscuits are golden brown.

Cool Avocado Soup
4 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
2-3 cups chicken bouillon
2 ripe avocados
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2-3 cup light cream
Mix flour, onion salt, and chili powder together. Add a little chicken bouillon to form a thin paste. Stir flour mixture into rest of bouillon. Stir over heat until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat. Peel avocados. Cut off four slices for garnish. Mash rest of avocado through a sieve. Stir into chicken bouillon and lemon juice. Stir mixture over ice until very cold. Stir in cream. Pour into chilled cups and garnish with slice of avocado.

Eighth District Congressman John Byrnes met with Outagamie county Republican leaders Wednesday noon. From the left are Richard Mahony, Jr., T. Dick Oudenhoven, Byrnes, R. A. Peterson and Seymour Gmeiner. Byrnes also held office hours for constituents at the county courthouse most of the day.

Training Starts Soon

Civil Defense Coordinator Has Half of Needed Auxiliary Police

The Rev. Dr. Wagner's sermon is titled "The Synod President — A Bishop in the New Testament Sense."

Also participating will be the Rev. John Seidler, pastor of St. John E and R church, Appleton, who will deliver the solemn declaration; the Rev. Bruno Romanowski, synod vice president and pastor of St. Paul E and R church, Oshkosh; the epistle; and the Rev. William Schwemmer, synod treasurer and associate pastor of the E and R church in Merrill, the prayer.

Music will be provided by Miss Janet Meili, Appleton, organist, and Charles Vette, Kaukauna, soloist.

The installation committee consists of the Rev. Dr. Wagner, the Rev. Mr. Rosenau, the Rev. Mr. Seidler, the Rev. Edmond L. Henning, Elkhart Lake, synod secretary; Elder E. Scheib, Kaukauna, the new president's brother, and Elder Thomas Vette, Kaukauna. The Rev. Mr. Seidler also was one of the committee of six who selected the Rev. Mr. Scheib for his new position. The president and his wife are living in Appleton.

New classes for training auxiliary civil defense police will begin this month, Andrew J. Schiltz, Outagamie county CD coordinator announced today.

Schiltz, has about half the auxiliary police force recommended for the county. He is urging veterans groups, service clubs, athletic teams, young people's groups and similar organizations to contact him for details on police training.

"It isn't only in a possible nuclear attack that auxiliary police function — in any natural disaster, industrial explosion or fire, any of the possible disasters in our county, auxiliary police would provide traffic direction and assistance to the regular police force," Schiltz explained.

Sheriff Donald Heinritz is in charge of the auxiliary police in the county. The courses taught, basic civil defense, police services, functions of auxiliary police and Red Cross first aid, are under direction of state and local police and qualified Red Cross instructors.

Mrs. Ada Terry, 79, 709 W. Seventh street, Kaukauna, died about 9:30 Wednesday morning after a long illness. She was born in Wrightstown, Jan. 13, 1879, and lived in Kaukauna the last 50 years.

will find the courses are of use each day and may prove lifesaving in an emergency," Schiltz said. He added the training will equip a man to face nearly any emergency, either as an auxiliary policeman or in his own life.

Generally, Schiltz said, men between 23 and 55 years of age are accepted for training. When they have completed the course and signed a loyalty oath, the auxiliary policemen are a part of the state civil defense force, eligible for equipment purchased under the federal fund-matching plan and covered by workmen's compensation insurance when on police duty.

Deputy sheriffs are not eligible for the equipment and insurance if they are trained as auxiliary police under federal regulations. Also, Schiltz said, men in the reserve of the armed services cannot be a part of auxiliary police, since they will be called into duty during a national emergency.

Work Outlined

When auxiliary police are called for duty, Schiltz explained, they may work with or without direct regular police supervision. Their training is designed to give them an understanding of the law and enforcement.

Auxiliary police are primarily traffic officers, but some will be trained for police work to prevent looting and sabotage, Schiltz said.

Quota for Outagamie county at large is 155 auxiliary police. Other quotas within the county are 185 for Appleton, 45 for Kaukauna, 22 for Little Chute, 17 for Kimberly, 10 for Seymour, 5 each for Black Creek and Shiocton, 6 for Hortonville, 4 for Combined Locks and 3 for Bear Creek.

For anyone interested in auxiliary police training, Schiltz said information can be obtained by mailing a postal card with the individual's name, address and telephone number to "Civil Defense, Outagamie county courthouse, Appleton."

U.S. to Seek New Loans for Running Costs

Must Take Care Not To Upset Market
Or Spur Inflation

BY SAM DAWSON

New York — Like any head of the family whose budget has been scuttled by unexpected cash outlays and income disappointments, Uncle Sam is about to seek new loans to tide him over.

He may have to pay dearly for them. He must try to keep them from further upsetting the money markets and spurring inflation. It'll be quite a trick, if he can pull it off.

The U. S. budget bureau has just spelled out in cold figures how much more it's going to take for Uncle Sam to pay his bills.

The market in government and corporate bonds is indicating today what terms he is likely to have to pay.

The terms those with money to lend now ask and their wariness about taking new offerings have caused a number of companies and local governments to cancel or postpone their own trips to the money market.

And the U. S. Treasury has just seen its own securities take another price tumble while investors turned instead to gobble up $350 million of Sears, Roebuck bonds paying 4 1/2 per cent. Apparently they thought the price is right.

Falling prices on government securities is raising their yield. The highest now is on a 3 1/2 per cent treasury bond bid down below 93 to return a yield of 3.84 per cent to those who buy at that price.

The treasury is already raising a little extra cash here and there. For the second week running it has increased its offerings of 91-day bills. This will net it $200 million more.

But its big deal comes up next month when it must raise several billion in new cash. Treasury sources have put the new offering as low as $3 billion, but some New York sources estimate that it should be a slight surplus next June 30.

Since then estimated federal spending has risen by more than $5 billion. Worse, the recession has cut into expected tax collections by $7 1/2 billion. The treasury's task has just been spelled out in the budget bureau's report on what up-Individuals will pony up $2 1/2 set the budget. In January the billion less.
